FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Loyalty & Liability
Greenville, S. C.—A dog's affection proved very troublesome this time.

Deputy Earl Daniel and other officers sought John Cape on warrants charging house breaking and deadly assault. They searched high and low, but he couldn't be found.

Daniel, noticing the hunted man's dog barking and running to and from a nearby field, investigated. Cape was found hiding in a furrow.

He's Being Hilled Now
Libertyville, Ill.—Jack Dowdle led two deputy sheriffs and Police Chief Frank Drubs to a grave at the edge of a woods. He discovered it while on his way to dig post holes.

Dowdle said he became excited and notified officers when his spade turned up a rib.

More ribs popped out after the deputy sheriffs started digging. In fact, there were plenty of ribs.

once big ones. There were also bones from four legs, and a skull, too.

It was a grave all right—the grave of someone's cow.

What, No Lunch?
Los Angeles—Hain-on-rye, pretzels and popcorn will be on the patron, not on the house, if the California Restaurant Association has its way.

Directors of the association have voted to demand the State Equalization Board, which controls California bars, banish free edibles.

Full Guy
Kansas City—John Bell had to borrow a cigarette when he got to the hospital.

Bell dropped his pipe from the porch of his home. Leaning out to catch it when a boy tossed it back, he fell and broke his arm. Brought to the hospital, he had forgotten the pipe.

Shanghai, China, has become a city of skyscrapers, largely built by Americans.

MODENA

Modena, July 16—The July issue of the "Watchword," published bi-monthly for the Modena and Clintondale Methodist Churches, has been distributed and receives much commendation in its appearance. Contents of the current edition include reports of the recent vacation trip made by the Rev. Mr. Solbjor to Minnesota. On their return trip, when accompanied by Misses Olsen and Solbjor, the party visited Lake Geneva, W. Evanston, Ill., Chicago, Ill., Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland, O., and Niagara Falls. Coming events are forecast in pictures announcing the Sunday School excursion to Indian Point on Wednesday, July 21, when members of Methodist, Presbyterian, Friends and Reformed Sunday Schools will unite and enjoy the trip and picnic in a group. Tickets may be purchased from Mr. Solbjor in Modena, and Walter Beatty, in Clintondale. On Friday evening, July 23, Miss Betty Olsen, guest of the Solbjors, will render a piano solo at the concert given in the Methodist Church under the auspices of the Official Board of the Church. Other vocal and instrumental selections will be featured. Tickets may be purchased from members of the Official Board, Newburgh Local Union of the Epworth League will make an excursion trip to New York city on Saturday, July 24. The Rev. Philip Solbjor has charge of the disposal of tickets in this area. In the Cradle Roll department of the "Watchword," Mrs. Simon DuBois voices appreciation to Mrs. Louis Hyatt and mother of the members of the Cradle Roll, for the successful manner in which they conducted the booth during the Independence Day celebration. Articles not disposed of may be bought of Mrs. DuBois. Mr. Solbjor announces his appreciation of the successful management and serving of the church supper, held recently in the Hasbrouck Memorial Hall, when Mrs. Ransel Wager was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements. A substantial sum was realized, which will benefit the Modena Methodist Sunday School.

Final preparation are being made by the Modena Firemen for their participation in the parade at Port Jervis, on Saturday, July 24. The second annual convention of the Ulster County Firemen's association will open Friday, July 23. The carnival committee, namely Raymond Howe, William Buddenhagen, Charles Neice and John Ward have contacted the B. & V. Enterprises, of Garfield, N. J., whose performances rate high and guarantees successful entertaining and amusement. The show will locate on the Commons at Port Jervis, and two entrances will eliminate traffic congestion and assure ample parking space. A display of fireworks will climax the convention's gala features on Saturday evening, July 24.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Modena Methodist Church, will conduct a food sale at the welfare office on Saturday afternoon, July 24. Mrs. Wagonier, of Garfield, N. J., whose performances rate high and guarantees successful entertaining and amusement. The show will locate on the Commons at Port Jervis, and two entrances will eliminate traffic congestion and assure ample parking space. A display of fireworks will climax the convention's gala features on Saturday evening, July 24.

The first three weeks in August is the tentative date set for Vacation Bible school, Methodist and Friends Churches, of Modena, and Clintondale, will cooperate. Transportation will be furnished for local students. The school will be under the direction of the Rev. Philip Solbjor, of Modena, and the Rev. B. Russell Branson, of Clintondale.

A representative of the Curtis Publishing Co., of Philadelphia, Pa. was in town, Wednesday seeking cooperation of the Modena Fire Department in soliciting subscriptions.

Mr. and Mrs. Courter, Sr., entertained relatives from Highland, Tuesday evening.

Mary Lou Bennett, of Middle-town, visited her aunt, Mrs. Harry Fairbridge, last week.

Tuckermen from this section are hauling gravel from the sand bank of P. D. Smith to the "Blackneck" section in the Marlboro mountains, where traffic has increased greatly, owing to the construction of the shafts in connection with the New York city aqueduct.

A peony plant at Muncy, Pa., in the garden of Miss Sarah McCarty has bloomed every year for a century.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

School Members Are Reelected

Saugerties, July 16—The annual meeting of the Union Free School District No. 10 was held in the high school building on Tuesday evening with the meeting being called to order by Clerk A. F. Saunders and Joseph W. Frankel was elected chairman of the meeting. The annual reports were read and approved and the financial budget for the school year of 1937-38 totaling $111,577.18 was read and approved and the amount of tax to be raised on the taxable inhabitants of the district was ordered levied.

The names of Dr. Guy F. Axtell, Arthur D. Lamb and Lewis F. Fellows was placed in nomination by William M. Fiero to succeed themselves as members of the Board of Education for a term of three years. William Fiero and Mrs. John A. Snyder acted as tellers at the meeting and was unanimous vote. The election of the members was held at the firemen's ball on Partition street Wednesday afternoon.

SAUGERTIES LODGE TO HOLD CARNIVAL

Saugerties, July 16—Plans have been completed for the annual indoor carnival sponsored by the Saugerties Council No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., which will be held from August 2 to 7 inclusive at Mechanics Hall. The program has been made interesting and many features of the last year success have been included together with many new games. Every person from 8 to 80 is assured an evening of entertainment and pleasure for the committee has spared no expense for the event.

Glascio Elects School Board

Saugerties, July 16—The annual meeting of the Union Free School, District No. 9, was held in the Glascio schoolhouse on Tuesday evening, with Michael A. Gallotta chairman of the meeting. The names of Fred Mayone, Richard Secreto, Michael Gallotta, Alfred Mauro, Frank Briony and Mrs. Martin Whitaker were placed for nomination and Mayone, Briony and Secreto declined the nomination. The retiring members of the board were Alfred Mauro and Frank Briony. On vote Mayone was declared elected and Secreto was also declared elected. The financial budget for the school year amounts to $26,291.33 and was adopted and then the meeting was adjourned.

Truck Damages Property

Saugerties, July 16—A milk truck stated to be owned by Frank Barbuto, of New Jersey, and operated by Arby Doyle, of Mattawan, N. J., was forced off the roadway near the Frank Clum property in West Camp on Tuesday morning. The truck did considerable damage to the fruit trees and shrubbery on the Clum property. The state police were called and made the investigation and the driver of the truck which caused the accident proceeded on without making his identity known. In order to recover for the damage done to his property Mr. Clum has commenced a civil action against the owner of the Jersey man's truck and Officer Dillon of the Saugerties police force served the papers. Morris Rosenblum is the attorney for Mr. Clum in the action.

Competition is met outside but is beaten inside the workshop.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD BLAKESLEE
(AP Science Editor)

Pasadena, Calif.—Some traffic jams in the far distant parts of the universe, where hundreds of Milky Ways get together, are being discovered by a little, new telescope which will stand alongside the giant 200-inch now under construction here.

The new telescope is a Schmidt, its diameter only 18 inches. It photographs a wide expanse of sky, contrasted to the shots of the Big Bertha telescopes which penetrate to great distances but see only a tiny spot at a time.

In one region of the sky, out in the direction of the constellation Pleiades, the fish, the little telescope has spotted a jam of between 300 and 400 Milky Ways.

Each is a nebula, an island universe, like the Milky Way. Dr. F. Zwicky, who located the swarm, says clusters like this represent the largest concentrations of matter known. He thinks their study will shed light on the evolution of the universe out of primeval matter.

"Rose Bowl Game" As Opener.
Iowa City (AP)—In two months more than 70 University of Iowa grid candidates will be prancing on the practice field under Coach Irl Tubbs and his five assistants. Like other Big Ten football teams, the Iowa eleven will start practice September 10. Unlike the others, Iowa will open with Washington's Rose Bowl team instead of a small opponent of warmup caliber.

JACOB RUPPERT BEER
FAMOUS FOR FLAVOR

YOU'LL GET A BANG OUT OF THIS ONE!

DO you get a kick out of a golf ball's click when you really lean into one on the tee?

Does your heart beat faster when the big fish strikes, and your singing reel almost smokes?

Can a brisk breeze and a taut sail make you feel like a kid again, forgetting care in the sheer joy of action?

Mister, if you're like that, what a bang you'll get out of this big Buick!

You'll go for the way it goes for you. You'll like the quick, eager spurt of its get-away, the buoyant, swiftness steadiness of its travel.

You'll thrill to the businesslike manner in which it settles to the pull, its quiet, dogged competence in long, tough going.

You'll welcome the way it cradles you over the bumps, the neat, compact, handily mobile feel of it. You'll be proudly aware of its beauty, of the picture you make riding in its this-minute style.

But don't forget this major thing—it's the buy of the season, price-wise as well as on performance! It's still selling at the lowest price in all Buick history—you can still get a big Buick eight for less than some sixes would cost you.

So don't hold back! Good things, you know, can't last forever. Don't pass up a buy such as Buick is at its low prices now.

Jamboree Scouts Tell Kiwanians About Big Event

At the weekly meeting of the Kingston Kiwanis Club held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Thursday, July 15, the program was devoted to the Ulster-Greene Council of the Boy Scouts of America and there were present representing the scouts: William J. Wright, executive; Russell H. Broughton, commissioner, and a party of boys representing the Kingston district, each of whom gave an account covering some portion of the National Scout Jamboree at Washington which they recently had attended.

Before the scouts were introduced, President William Byrne called on Roger H. Loughran, past president of the club, who, on behalf of the management of the Governor Clinton Hotel presented to the Hon. Joseph M. Fowler a birthday cake, the day being the anniversary of Judge Fowler's advent into the world.

The president then called upon Scout Executive William J. Wright who, after a few remarks, introduced Russell Broughton, in charge of the band of scouts. Commissioner Broughton then presented Scout John Goteil whose part in the program pertained to an account of the training camps in which the young men were prepared for their trip to Washington.

Scout Eric Flugel in his report given to the club dealt with the problem of transportation to and from Washington and the means by which the aggregation of about 27,000 boys met and were carried to the Jamboree and returned at its completion.

Gordon Craig in his remarks covered the matter of the camp organization at Washington.

Leo Herbert's story had to do with the matter of the feeding of the entire Scout Camp while in session at the Jamboree. He stated that the army of boys consumed about 70,000 eggs at one breakfast and the duty of the commissary was to make ready and serve about 250 tons of food each day. This, Herbert said, was so well arranged that there was no hitch in the steward's department at any time, the meals being well prepared and later served on time throughout the entire session.

John Brinler recounted the excursions from the camp and reported that a great many of the boys enjoyed attendance at the baseball games, visited Mount Vernon and other points of interest outside of Washington.

Harold Winters dealt on the sight-seeing trips which were available to the Scouts. It appeared that the boys were divided into groups of eight and were permitted to go outside the camp on passes under the leadership of guides. In this manner they visited the Washington monument, the museums and government buildings in Washington, including Lincoln Memorial, Labor Building, Smithsonian Institute and the buildings of the Department of Commerce.

John Cook's assignment dealt with the arena for the presentation of plays in front of the monument near which the camp was pitched. Various sections of the county rehearsed and put on pageants characteristic of the portions of the country from which they came. The Southern Section gave a pageant re-enacting the part of General Lee in the Civil War, while the Eastern Section produced a play showing the struggles of the Pilgrim fathers in establishing the early settlements in this country.

Cook was followed by Richard Dumm who informed the audience as to the details of the administration and the exhibit sections of the camp. These units, Dumm said, were placed on a street called the Avenue of Flags and had sections devoted to commercial sales, the publication of the Jamboree Journal, a newspaper which appeared daily during the session, public information, a radio exhibit, loaned by the U. S. Coast Guard, a health and safety post, and a display of snapshots and photographic material.

Robert Jones told the gathering that during the nights of the session, camp fires were held. The first campfire was lighted by Daniel Beard, the veteran Scouter, with flint and steel and at some of the camp fires such noted men as Homer S. Cummings and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt were heard.

The last campfire was that held as a farewell to the boys who had come to the Jamboree from foreign countries. On the first campfire the ashes left from the campfire of the previous International Jamboree were added to the members, and a portion of the ashes were retained from the last campfire to be taken to Holland and used in the kindling of the camp fire of the International Jamboree to be held in that country.

The practice of "swopping" was explained by Paul Nosovich. According to Paul, horned toads, which had been brought by the boys from the southwestern sections, proved to be the most popular article used for this purpose. He referred to one of these tiny animals which was resting on the shoulder of Gordon Craig while attending the luncheon at which Paul was speaking. Various kinds of small keepsakes were traded for others among the boys. In some instances, a beaded necklace might be traded for a toad, or a neckerchief for a neckerchief slide, some of which were made from the kukui nut, a vegetable product which comes from Hawaii, is very hard and retains a high polish. Some of the boys displayed a commercial trend and insisted upon receiving cash for these small personal belongings. It was reported that some neckerchiefs had been sold for $2.50 apiece and certain of the lads from other sections who had an eye for business made purchases at this price and resold them for $4.00.

The hospitality which the boys met in Washington was the subject of the speech by Joan Larkin. John reported that it had not been necessary to even "display the thumb" on requesting a ride but only to show an expectant face while waiting on a curb and immediately the would-be passenger would be picked up by some kind-hearted Washingtonian. In addition to this private mode of transportation, busses were provided to take the boys to the Lee Mansion and other points of interest.

Julian Ronder dwelt on the interest shown in the Capitol building and described the Senate Library which was visited by the boys as well as "Statuary Hall" where, he stated, the House of Representatives formerly had met. He described the whispering points in this Hall where a person may stand and converse in a whisper, his voice being amplified by the existing acoustics in the room, so that a person in a certain point in another section of the hall can very clearly understand what is being said.

The building of Physics and Science, concerning which John Clappett took some notes, was reported by Clappett to have offered one of the most interesting studies for the boys. Here John saw a pendulum, which demonstrated the rotation of the earth, an ultra-violet ray machine which cast a lurid light on the countenance of any visitor standing within its beams and which produced a glistening appearance upon the teeth of any persons on whom its rays fell. He saw how the voice is carried through telephone wires and also how static operates in connection with radio reception.

At the conclusion of the luncheon the boys thanked the Kiwanis Club for their hospitality in having entertained them at luncheon.

COMMUNITY CAMPFIRE AT HASBROUCK PARK TONIGHT

The boys and girls of Hasbrouck Park invite their parents and friends to enjoy the second Community Night Program at the park tonight. The special program which has been arranged, will be held around a roaring campfire on the top of the hill. Since a new site has been selected for the campfire, everyone is assured of a good time in real comfort.

The high spots of recent activities at the park include holding an election, publishing a newspaper, and organizing softball teams for the Park League games. As a result of the voting, a Mayor and a Council were chosen to be the official leaders of the park this summer. Walter Tatarzewski, popular mayor of last summer, was returned to office for a second term. The chairmanship of the park council was won by Bernice Jankowski, who will be aided by four other council members: Elizabeth May, Jean Murphy, George Bruck, and Edward Gill.

The first issue of the Hasbrouck Park newspaper was published this week. Although it appeared without any name, the staff reports that several suggestions have been received, and their selection will be made public shortly. The members of the staff of the new journalistic endeavor are: Editor-in-chief—Charles Carlson; managing editor—Richard Shabot; advertising managers—John Jolnoski and Daniel Styles; sports editors—Helen Jankowska and Louis Albright; social editor—Lorna Wells; joke editor—Walter Tomaszewski; pressmen—Edward Gill and James Kellerman; reporters—John Costello, Dorothy Cullen, Roy Van Buren, Frank Weber and Peter Wenzel.

Both the Midgets and the Juniors held special meetings to elect captains for their softball teams. Robert Gill became the chosen leader of the Midgets, and Fred Jankowski is to assist him as co-captain. The Juniors selected Edward Gill as captain, and Walter Tomaszewski as co-captain.

AT SUMMER THEATRES

Robert Elwyn's Maverick Theatre players presented the comedy, "Penny Wise", last night before a fair sized and appreciative audience who were pleased over the performance. The following was the cast in order of appearance:

Jeff, a young man, James Roberts
Tina, a young girl, Frances Bavier
Martha, older than Tina, Betty Sittler
Gordon, young man of 39, Frank Rothe
Penny, his wife, 33, Velma Royton
Katherine, self-assured, Helen Warren
Commissioner Dunn, politician, Robert Smith

Almost from the time the curtain parted on the first dialogue until the last line was spoken, the audience was treated to some fine side-splitting comedy through which ran a bit of a plot—just enough to complicate matters and furnish the setting for more laughs.

The first act was the foundation for a tangle in which Gordon (Frank Rothe) meets two of his former lady-loves within the walls of his own home. These two ladies, Tina (Frances Bavier) and Martha (Betty Sittler), came to his home in Connecticut for the purpose, as they saw it, of preventing Gordon's marriage to Penny (Velma Royton) from dissolving due to the husband's infatuation for a play-reader, Katherine (Helen Warren).

While Tina and Martha are endeavoring to tangle things into as great a mess as they possibly can, Jeff (James Roberts) rambles nonchalantly in and out of the various scenes, making remarks in such fashion that usually incites the audience to howls of merriment. And through all this fretting of first the two busy-bodies, and then with Gordon added to the number of uneasy persons, the wife, Penny, goes about her work in a carefree manner with only the business of housework occupying a place of importance in her mind.

Fuel is added to the fire that has been smoldering under the watchful care of Tina and Martha, when Penny brings Katherine, her husband's secret lady-love, home to treat her as an honored guest, while Tina and Martha poke around for an opportunity to put this Katherine in her place. The opportunity pops up unexpectedly and instead of creating their desired impression and getting rid of Katherine, the two trouble-makers only succeed in fanning the flames a bit higher and preparing the scene for the grand finale when Penny learns of the affair.

Much to the horror of all concerned, with the exception of Penny, Katherine is given the chance to accompany Penny on a shopping tour, and sets forth with the expressed purpose of revealing the entire situation to the wife. Eventually, she does tell Penny what has transpired and what plans she and Gordon have made for their happiness. It is here that the germ of thought which the play has cleverly succeeded in instilling in the minds of the audience before this scene—that Penny knows more about what is happening than she has been credited with knowing—comes out in the open and justifies the name "Penny Wise".

The final curtain closes on the triumph of Penny over her tormentors and would-be home-wreckers, as she is carried out into the garden by her husband who has finally come to realize what a fool he has been and what a fine wife he has been fortunate in finding with for a period of 10 years.

The incidental part of Commissioner Dunn, a politician, is well portrayed by Robert Smith, who in various places during the unfolding of the past of Gordon, the erring husband, is spoken of by Gordon as an inefficient politician but who finally arrives on the scene to add another touch of humor to the proceedings, and to give the audience another chance to see that Penny is much the wiser person than she has appeared to be up to this point in the play.

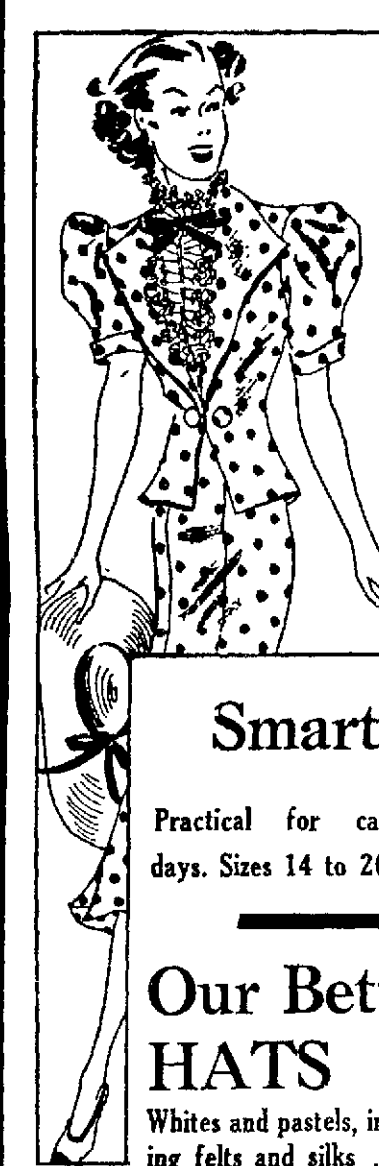

On the whole the play was well executed and affords a fine evening's entertainment.

Furniture Factory Strike
Jamestown, N. Y., July 16 (AP)—Five hundred employees of the Kluge Furniture Company walked out today and closed the company's five factories scattered throughout Chautauque county. At the same time, 21 other units of the Furniture Workers Union, of Jamestown, unaffiliated nationally, decided to vote on whether to follow the Kluge employees' action.

HEM AND AMY

Indian Club at Camp Preumaker

Camp Preumaker, Glenelg, July 16.—Organized this week is a new Indian Club, under the leadership of Art Terrace, Onondaga Indian youth, which will take a major part in Sunday night's "Radio Broadcast" program at 8:30 o'clock. The Indian Club will put on an authentic war dance during the program, which is open to parents and friends of the campers.

The name of the new club is "Onondaga Onquahwey," which means "Friendly Indians." There are 11 members, who have been engaged this week in making tomahawks, Indian clothes and head dresses. Each member has an Indian name.

The members of the Indian Club are: Art Terrace, big chief; John Pogmore, assistant chief; John Kaufman, medicine man; William Grothkopf, John Shuts, Robert Russell, Warren Hauck, Jack Malone, Robert Schwenk, Myron Brookfield, Grant Rowland, Robert Stahlke, Fred Storms, Edw. Leudke, James McCabe, Sherwood Lauderdale.

Additional features on the Sunday night "Broadcast" include musical selections, and news flashes by the gossip editors of the Daily Bump, the camp newspaper.

The first weekly mimeographed feature of the Bump came out Wednesday. The new board of editors, as announced in the paper, are: Editor-in-Chief, Fred Wood; managing editor, John Kaufman; sports editor, Ken Snyder; associate editor, Herbert Spah; reporters who will assist the editors include John Rowland, John Shuts, Sunny Fator and Robert Russell.

Other camp departments which have been functioning at top speed this week are crafts and athletics. The craft department has had to put in a second large order of supplies, and in the athletic line a softball league, including all campers, has been set up by Coach King.

It's the same with men as with the ancient, lizards—the more armor, the less brains.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

Miss Peppe Weds.

New Palz, July 16.—The wedding of Estherine D. Peppe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Peppe, of Pine Plains, and Stephen P. Terni, of Millerton, was solemnized at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon in St. Anthony's Church, Pine Plains. The Rev. Francis La Velle of America, pastor of the church, officiated. The bride is a graduate of the New Palz Normal School, and was attended by former classmates of the Normal, Rita McTague and Adelaide Ench of Kingston, as bridesmaids. Nanette Peppe attended her sister as maid of honor. The bride was dressed in a coat dress of eggshell satin, princess style, with rose point lace. Her veil of tulle was made with apple blossom crown and she carried a shower bouquet of white roses and baby's breath. The maid of honor wore a pink candy stripe mousseline de soie with a blue tulle and carried pink roses and blue delphinium. The bridesmaids' gowns were of blue chiffon, with face length veils of blue tulle, and pink tulle. Their flower girls wore pink roses and blue delphinium. The flower girls were Mary Adessi, a niece of the bride, of Danbury, Conn., and Stephanie Terni, niece of the bridegroom. They wore pink gowns and carried baskets of white roses. Vito Prona, cousin of the bride, was page boy. Vincent Peppe and Anthony Peppe, brothers of the bride, were the ushers. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Guy Roberts. After the ceremony a reception was held for 75 guests at the bride's home. Later the couple left for a wedding trip by motor in the Adirondacks and Canada. Mrs. Terni's going-away ensemble was of navy blue silk, with white accessories. Upon their return they will reside in Millerton.

MAIN STREET HUNTER BAGS A COYOTE

Helena, Mont., (AP)—When 12-year-old John Sutphen chooses to hunt coyotes, he picks one of Helena's main streets—and brings 'em in alive.

John saw a coyote slinking by his home. He gave chase. Finally the coyote found himself cornered in a small space between a garage and a fence. John stood at the only opening, on guard, until a neighbor arrived with a blanket.

John grabbed it, made a neat tackle and draped the blanket over the coyote's head.

He built a kennel. Now the coyote is a family pet.

J. Carroll Davis of Fort Worth, Tex., says he has traveled 20,000 miles with his bicycle trailer. Davis, aged 20, built his roaming home himself at a cost of $14. In it are a bed, stove, table, cabinets and a book rack. His dog, Sug, travels with him.

No Mediation

Nanking, July 16 (AP)—Sir Hugh Knatchbull-Hugessen, British ambassador to China, said today he came to Nanking to "keep in close touch" with the Sino-Japanese crisis but not to mediate. The ambassador arrived on a British cruiser and held conferences with both Japanese and Chinese officials. Japanese reports said the 10th, 39th, and 167th Chinese Army divisions were moving north to the battle area from the Southern city of Chengchow.

LITTLE MILLIONAIRE

In their first picture since the child was a tiny baby, Mrs. John Jacob Astor III and her son, William, are shown strolling on a beach near Newport, R. I. He is heir to a large fortune. His mother is the former Ellen French.

Minimum Wage Provision.

Washington, July 16 (AP)—House labor committee members disclosed today attempts are being made to write 35-hour week and 60-cents-an-hour minimum wage provisions into the administration's labor standards bill. The committee will vote on the amendments Wednesday.

No Third Term for Roosevelt, States President's Friend

Washington, July 16 (AP)—Judge John E. Mack, of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., who twice nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt for President, said today the Chief Executive would not run for a third term.

"The next Democratic presidential nominee," Mack told reporters, "will not be Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Mack is a lifelong friend and neighbor of the President. He was here today for a National Labor Relations Board hearing.

Judge Mack said he was confident President Roosevelt would emerge victorious in the controversy over the proposed reorganization of the Supreme Court.

He said he did not plan to call on the President, but hoped to see Attorney General Homer Cummings later in the day.

Judge Mack said the court question was one that would, in the long run, be decided by the people. "Every proposition of this kind," he said, "brings a difference of opinion. We have a rule in this country that the will of the majority shall prevail. In the final analysis, the majority of the people of this country will decide the issue."

Mack said Democratic senators opposing the court bill were "simply voicing a difference of opinion in the party."

He said he did not believe the court battle would split the party "but that is one of the chances we have to take."

Lane Co. Speeds Road Work

fully 20 feet deep is being made between the old road and the Esopus creek to straighten out that curve. The hill across from the Walker property has been blasted away and a similar operation has taken place near the old toll gate.

An extensive fill is being placed just beyond the toll gate and throughout the section all the way to Stony Hollow culvert work is being done. One half of the highway is closed to traffic and that section of the culvert is placed. When the new culvert is ready the fill is completed and traffic is directed over that half and the remaining section is built.

At present travel over the new fills is extremely rough and there is some delay to traffic during daytime operations. This may be avoided by taking the Sawkill road just beyond the Higginsville bridge past the airport and left up the hill through the village of Sawkill to Zena. At Zena West Hurley traffic may turn left and emerge on the Ashokan boulevard at the Ulster & Delaware overpass at West Hurley or traffic may continue straight from Zena through to the Saugerties-Woodstock road and left there to Woodstock and for points beyond in the mountains.

On the Zena-Woodstock route there is a short detour where a new county bridge is being placed over the Sawkill to replace the concrete bridge damaged by floods a couple of years ago. The detour is short and good.

PILL SLAVE FREED FROM CONSTIPATION

A convincing tribute is paid to Kellogg's ALL-BRAN in this letter from Mr. F. C. Amisen of Seattle. "I suffered with constipation for many years and was compelled to use pills every night. Since I got your ALL-BRAN, it works fine. I was so deathly sick of taking pills. Now it is so different. Kellogg's ALL-BRAN works so naturally, and is pleasant to eat."

Inside the body, ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, forming a soft mass that gently sponges out the intestines. It also supplies vitamin B to help tone the intestines, and iron for the blood.

You'll enjoy eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. As a cereal with milk or fruits, or in appetizing recipes. Two tablespoonsful every day are usually enough—three times daily if needed. Sold by all grocers. Made and guaranteed by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Rev. Philip Goertz Accepts Call to Washington, D. C.

The Rev. Philip Goertz, pastor of the Port Ewen and St. Remy Reformed Churches, was released by the Reformed Classis of Ulster at a special meeting at the First Dutch Church here Thursday. The Rev. Mr. Goertz who for 10 years has been pastor of the local churches, will become pastor of the Garden Memorial Presbyterian Church in Washington, D. C., about September 1.

The Rev. Wilbur F. Stowe, former pastor of the Church of the Comforter, was appointed by the Classis to become supervisor of the Port Ewen Church, upon the departure of the Rev. Mr. Goertz. The Rev. C. P. Mayskens, pastor of the Church of the Comforter, was named as supervisor of the St. Remy Church.

The Rev. C. V. D. Bedford of the Rosendale Reformed Church, The Rev. J. B. Steketee will become the supervisor of the Rosendale Church. The Rev. Mr. Bedford will continue as pastor of the Bloomingtown Reformed church.

The Rev. Mr. Steketee and the Rev. Chester C. Chilton of Hurley reported on the regular session of the General Synod of the church, which was held at Asbury Park, N. J., last month.

K. of C. Honors F. P. Wingert

Florian P. Wingert, Past Faithful Navigator of Fourth Degree Assembly, Kingston Council, No. 275, Knights of Columbus, was tendered a testimonial dinner Thursday evening at Pleasant View Inn. About 75 members were in attendance.

The Rev. Henry E. Herdeggen of St. Peter's Church, who is Faithful Friar of the local assembly, was also presented with a gift of the assembly in honor of the 10th anniversary of his ordination. Among the speakers besides the honored guests were Faithful Navigator Foster and Patrick T. Murphy, Master of Clavert Province of the third New York district.

Revival Soon of Big Scale Refunds

New York, July 16 (AP)—After an advancing gesture at the opening, stocks turned downward in today's market and many of the leaders yielded fractions to 2 or more points.

U. S. Steel ran up above 117 to a new high for the move in early proceedings, but lost most of its gain later when Chrysler dropped sharply and the rest of the list exhibited signs of weakening.

The list suffered a little near the final hour but support was not impressive. Transfers were at the rate of about 800,000 shares.

Bonds ran counter to stocks, general trends being higher in virtually all divisions. Commodities were mixed. A break in the French franc in relation to the dollar unsettled foreign exchange trends.

Among share losers at one time were General Motors, Yellow Truck, Bethlehem, Republic, Goodrich, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Oliver Farm, Woolworth, Douglas Aircraft, Loomis, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Smelting, Westinghouse, American Can, General Electric, Du Pont, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, N. Y. Central, Northern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Union Carbide and Dow Chemical.

Resistant were Consolidated Edison, American Telephone, Standard Oil of N. J., Texas Corp., National Lead, Sears Roebuck, Rockwell, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, and Crucible.

U. S. Steel just about held its own.

Miss Joetta Snyder, of 21 John street, and daughter, Miss E. Elmendorf, of 137 St. James street, returned Monday from a two week's vacation spent at Ocean Grove and Atlantic City, N. J. On Monday they were entertained at the home of Mrs. Snyder daughter, Mrs. Mabel Benjamin, who lives in Yonkers.

Miss Dorothea Brophy and Ruth A. Duryee, of the Fuller Shirt Co. office force returned from their vacation this week. The Misses Duryee and Brophy were in New York for a few days and while there had the pleasure of seeing the Fred Allen radio program. Miss Brophy came home after a fine time in New York, and Miss Duryee went to Sea Girt to visit her aunt, Mrs. Gertrude Duryee, who has a summer home there.

FORD AGAINST ANY EMPLOYE ORGANIZATION

Detroit, July 16 (AP)—Testimony that Harry Bennett, Ford Motor Company personnel director, said the company did not approve of any organizations of its employees, went into the record of a national labor relations board hearing here today.

Paul M. Conrad and John M. Carlisle, Detroit news reporters, identified and confirmed newspaper stories quoting Bennett as commenting on the organization of the Ford Brotherhood of America, Inc., an independent union in the company's big River Rouge plant at Dearborn.

The testimony was the first mention of the F. B. A. in the NLRB hearing on a complaint charging the Ford Company with unfair labor practices. The complaint alleged the company supported the solicitation of membership in this union, and later "permitted it to be announced in the public press that the F. B. A. had been disbanded at the request of the company."

Carlisle identified an article quoting Bennett also as saying Ford employees named as officers of the Workers' Council for Social Justice, Inc., another independent union, had been told to return to work or be discharged.

opposition leaders took most violent exception was this:

"It is" "with regret that I find that advantage is being taken of what, in all decency, should be a period of mourning."

"Because of this situation, however, I am compelled in the public interest, though against every inclination, to write to you. I do this because you are the acting majority leader of the Senate."

Senator Wheeler (D., Mont.), leader of the foes, said:

"I cannot believe the President wrote such a letter. It would not be in character for the man who is the leader of our party, the President of our country and the man of our liberals and I triumphed in 1932 and 1936."

"I cannot believe Governor Roosevelt could make political capital out of tragedy of this sort. But if it is so, he must have accepted poor counsel in an hour when men who have lost a friend are particularly susceptible."

Charge Failure to Protect.

Johnstown, Pa., July 16 (AP)—A national conference of citizens committees charged today that "certain public officials in high places" had refused to protect American citizens in their right to work. Two hundred ministers, college professors and business men from 70 communities at the convention pledged themselves to "restore and protect those constitutional rights that have been taken from citizens by unworthy officials."

Many of Our Famous Men Tagged With Nicknames

History itself has "tagged" some men. An eminent feat or an outstanding characteristic has furnished the clue. Some it simply baptizes "the great." In other instances, notes a writer in the Washington Star, it confers a more distinctive title. And so we have: "The Iron Duke" (Wellington), "The Iron Chancellor" (Bismarck), "Tippecanoe" (President William Henry Harrison), "The Rock of Chickamauga" (General Thomas, Civil war), "The Great Commoner" (Pitt, Gladstone, Bryan), "The Liberator" (Daniel O'Connell), "The Father of His Country" (George Washington), "Stonewall" Jackson.

Thus again the man in the street himself will label some outstanding man. He need not necessarily be a great man, but often he is. In any case, he strikes the popular fancy and a nickname or a "short" name is his reward. This gives us "Old Abe" (Abraham Lincoln), "Old Fritz" (Frederick the Great), "Old Hickory" (Andrew Jackson), "Little Mac" (George McClellan), "Careful Cal" (Calvin Coolidge), "Rough and Ready" (Zachary Taylor), "Fuss and Feathers" (Winfield Scott), "John L." (John L. Sullivan), "Bossy" (Napoleon Bonaparte), "Teddy" (Theodore Roosevelt). But, somehow, no one would ever refer to Woodrow Wilson as "Woody."

Alp Sold for 50 Cents

Vienna. (The Tyrol provincial government has sold the peak of Austria's highest mountain, Gross Glockner, 12,461 feet high, to the Austrian Alpine club, it was announced recently. The club will pay 2.54 schillings (50 cents) for the 40 square feet of summit.

Feelings of Horse Held Worth $25,000

Hollywood.—The owner of the trick movie horse Zane asked $25,000 damages because the horse's feelings were hurt at receiving no screen credit.

Zane's humiliation was made the basis for a suit brought against Republic studios by the horse's owner, Tracy Layne.

Layne said he let the studio use the animal for the "nominal sum" of $200 because "screen credit" was promised. He alleged that it was not forthcoming.

Tells of Attacks.

Los Angeles, July 16 (AP)—District attorney's investigators disclosed today that Olive Everett, 11-year-old sister of two of three girls allegedly slain by Albert Dyer, WPA crossing watchman, told the county grand jury that four men had attacked her at various times in Centinela Park, from which the girls were lured to their death June 26.

By L. L. STEVENSON

Once upon a time, Conrad Thibault was a floorwalker in a New York department store. He took the job in order to pay for musical studies while waiting a radio audition. Born of French parents in Northbridge, Mass., he studied intensively before actually starting his career. First he earned a scholarship in Curtis institute, Philadelphia. Then for five years he studied in New York and Paris. After that, for four years, he sang leading roles with the Philadelphia Grand Opera company.

Just turned thirty, Thibault is modest in manner and conservative when it comes to clothing. He doesn't believe in temperament and holds it "just a pose" with most artists. He sings in French, German, Italian and Russian, and believes that radio's greatest contribution is recognition it gives to American singers. It is his belief that, thanks to radio, American singers now have as much chance for success in opera as have foreigners.

Thibault is an amateur of considerable athletic ability. He excels in handball, tennis and swimming but prefers golf. He says his favorite time for practicing baritone solos is 11 o'clock at night, and that doesn't increase his popularity with his neighbors. He receives an average of 1,000 letters a month chiefly from women and romantic school girls. The most unusual gift he has received was a large cake with his name done in icing. It was shipped from Missouri and arrived intact. Recently he traveled 6,000 miles by airplane to sing three songs at Lehigh university because an old friend made the request.

If this one happens to be old, blame Tim Ryan who told it to me: An Englishman and an Irishman approached the captain of a vessel about to sail from Melbourne. Both wanted jobs. The captain accepted the Englishman without question. But from the Irishman, he demanded references which he studied long before signing him on. Because of that, the Irishman took violent dislike to the Englishman. They were three days out when the Englishman leaned over the rail to get a pail of sea water for mopping. A big wave swept him overboard. The Irishman went to the rail and stared but nothing was to be seen. Immediately he yelled the captain.

"Perhaps you remember when I shipped yez asked me fer references," remarked the tar from Erin, "but yez didn't question the Englishman?"

"Sure I do," responded the skipper. "Why?"

"Ye've been deceived. That Englishman's gone off with yer pail."

Mario Chamlee is always interested in the reactions to music. Recently, he attended a children's symphony concert and noticed that a little boy sitting next to him was much concerned by the extraordinary gyrations of the conductor. The latter threatened, cajoled, bullied and implored his men with no uncertain gestures.

"Did you enjoy the concert, son?" inquired Chamlee when the finish was reached.

"Well," responded the lad, "I liked the real clowns at the circus better."

Estelle Lieblich recently took a pleasure trip through the Rocky mountains. At one point in the road, she noticed a sheer drop of many hundreds of feet.

"This seems to be a very dangerous precipice," she remarked to her guide. "I wonder that they haven't put up a warning board."

"Yes, it is dangerous," was the response. "They kept a warning board up for about two years but nobody fell over so they took it down."

Two Young Sisters Dead from Burns

The victims were Grace Moyer,

Below Billion Mark.

Washington, July 16 (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins, works progress administrator, said today WPA expenditures in the last six months dropped below the billion dollar mark. They totaled about $880,000,000. During the first half of 1936, WPA cost $1,049,000,000, and in the last half it was $1,020,000,000. Emergency expenditures for drought, Hopkins said, prevented a larger reduction during the last six months of 1936.

Policeman Saves 3 from Hudson

New York, July 16 (AP)—This is the tale of a log, a life preserver, three young men and Patrolman John Mulligan, 31—especially Patrolman Mulligan.

The three young men, Peter George 31, Joseph Axinger, 18, and Joseph Ryan, 18, went swimming in the Hudson River yesterday evening, the current caught them, and the first thing they knew, they were 200 feet from shore and unable to swim back. Cramps seized the three of them.

Along came the log. They grabbed it and yelled.

The yells attracted Riverside drive pedestrians. They called a police emergency squad, including Patrolman Mulligan, once a football luminary at Manhattan College.

Mulligan dived into the Hudson, swam to the log and tried to push it ashore. He couldn't do it so he swam shoreward alone, grabbed a life preserver and swam back to midstream.

By that time, George was near exhaustion, so Mulligan slipped the life preserver around him and towed him ashore.

Mulligan's third trip completed the rescue, Axinger in the life preserver and Ryan swimming with Mulligan's help.

Just about the time they reached shore, other officers of the emergency squad arrived in a rowboat.

CHINESE "JOAN OF ARC"

From a quiet, conversational pose, little Loh Tsei works herself into a body-twisting climax as she describes Chinese-Japanese relations.

By LYDIA GRAY SHAW

(AP) Feature Service Writer

New York—Loh Tsei, inciter of riots, leader of strikes, speech-maker extraordinary, has never been in the United States before.

But she's now tearing across the country on a speaking tour that includes the major cities. Speaking in English, too. She says everyone learns to speak English in China.

She's 23. She calls that "old." But the most remarkable thing about her is that she cherishes a hatred more terrifying than a battery of machine guns against the Japanese who are "invading" China.

Intense Talker
For Miss Tsei is a leader in the Chinese Women's Association for National Liberation. And that, she says, means liberation from the Japanese.

She gets so intense about the situation that she gets herself all twisted up in a chair when she starts talking about it.

There are rich natural resources in China which Japan wants, she says. Even before the present rumpus, Japan has penetrated into five provinces in northern China. And unless Chinese here as well as in their native country rouse themselves and unite, she says, their wealthiest provinces will slip through their fingers.

That's why Miss Tsei has gotten involved in riots and strikes. Leading a demonstration of students across Nanking road is likely to be a short-cut to jail.

Warns Countrymen
So far Miss Tsei has escaped bodily harm. But she's tremenously angry. She says, in a voice that is almost a scream, "If Japan will not return to China 'all the stolen territory,' says Miss Tsei, there will be no conflict. Otherwise—China will never give in."

Osborne Praises State.
Rouses Point, N. Y., July 16 (AP)—New York state was described today as a "cooperator" rather than a "competitor" of other states in efforts to attract tourist trade. In an address prepared for the dedication of the new Rouses Point-Albany, Vt., bridge across Lake Champlain, Lithgow Osborne, New York state conservation commissioner, said the bridge would "promote much trade for both states." The bridge and its approaches is approximately one and a half miles long and will be operated as a toll bridge. The Vermont span, over Missisquoi Bay in West Swanton, Vt., has not been completed.

U. P. A. Members Attend Meeting

A committee, consisting of Clifford Bennett, president, Martin Schiede and Frank Spodick, general manager, representing the Ustler Provisioners' Co-Operative Association, sponsors of the U. P. A. Stores, journeyed to Cohoes to attend the bi-monthly meeting of the Capital District Retail Grocers' Association recently.

The Capital District Association is composed of individual retail grocers' associations in Amsterdam, Cohoes, Gloversville, Hudson Falls, Kingston, Mechanicville, Saratoga, Schenectady and Schoharie.

The meeting and dinner was held at the Van Schalk Golf Club.

A number of legislative and business problems affecting the retail grocers were discussed and committees appointed to draw plans for their solution and to present them at the next meeting which is to be held at Cobleskill in September.

The local delegation gave the gathering of 64 representatives a vivid picture of the planned activities of the state association, which will be held in Kingston August 1 to 3, inclusive.

Each association present pledged itself to bring a large delegation to the convention, which promises to break all previous records for attendance.

An informal meeting of the Capital District Association will be held at the U. P. A. building on East Strand during the convention.

Ninety-two percent of all claims resulting from loss and damage to freight while in transit on the railroads are either paid, declined, or withdrawn within 90 days after they are filed, with 77 per cent being acted upon within the first 30 days.

July Is Bright Floral Month

The flower rainbow runs riot in July, especially on the short wave, or "bright" side of the color spindle, for the reds, oranges, yellows and burnt colors characterize the season, as if the heat of the sun drew them out as it increased—a fact which has much basis for argument.

Two of the brightest of these mid-summer flowers are the zinnias and marigolds, each a rival of the other for brilliancy, although the zinnia has something of an edge because of its wider range of colors. They are both ideal materials for indoor decoration, with stiff stems, long lasting foliage, and compact, solid growth which defies the hot, dry atmosphere of July.

The cosmos, a rangy, free-flowing bloom, which makes sweeping arrangements that seem to billow and billow with the slightest breeze gives a carefree note to the room—if you will choose the white, blue and pink varieties they will make you forget the heat, although the popular orange colors are so beautiful that we cannot forget them.

The asters are a lovely race, particularly the new types the florists grow, which are as soft and spongy as a powder puff, yet have straight, stiff stems which make for easy handling. The hot colors of the cosmos and the asters are a lovely race, particularly the new types the florists grow, which are as soft and spongy as a powder puff, yet have straight, stiff stems which make for easy handling.

This is the first month of the year when the gladiolus comes in quantities, and although they will be less expensive next month and the one following, we must have a few of them in the home. Try one of the novel corsages made from their blossoms for your next evening out. There is such a wide color range in gladioli that you can match or contrast with any gown.

If you are planning a dinner party, consider the sweet williams and verbenas for the centerpiece. These two low-growing, umbrellatype blossoms furnish a maximum of color for the space they occupy, and will not obstruct the view across the table as some larger flowers will.

The annual larkspur has no rival for majestic grace and beauty. Its soft, cool blue and delicate texture is the best antidote for heat. Fortunately, the heavy, porous stems will take up so much water, that the flowers last well on the hottest days.

HINTS FOR GARDEN

An open gate leading into a garden is an invitation to enter, an assurance of welcome.

White plants are often interspersed among those of other colors to produce an effective contrast.

The French lilac is an ideal background for the foolproof garden. It is the foolproof lilac itself in that it blooms very young and continues season after season.

The best season to plant "pinks" is early fall. From early September until the ground freezes, with September considered preferable.

Those flowers usually classed as Hardy Biennials blossom the next year after the seed is sown and often begin to die off after that. With such varieties it is best to sow new seed each year.

Break a clear box into neat strips. Write the name of the plant on each strip and dip it in melted paraffin. These markers will last indefinitely.

Sowing flower seeds in the fall is always problematical and no definite information can be given the varieties that will succeed, and when to sow them must be determined by experimentation in each individual case.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Meyers, son Raymond, daughter June, and Mrs. Amelia DeGraz, of Kingston, spent Sunday evening with their niece, Mrs. Oscar Beach, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Addis spent Thursday evening in Kerkonson with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Miller, and sister, Edith, who was celebrating her birthday.

Prosperity Note

Hoquiam, Wash.—Washington auto drivers are setting faster. Mary Baker, notary public, said drivers applying for licenses this year are five to ten pounds heavier than during the last application period of two years ago.

Some had gained as much as 25 pounds, and few have lost weight, she said.

Remedies for Plant Pests

Few pests and diseases bother the indoor gardener, and those we have are easily routed when treated properly. For this reason, it is well to know the remedy for any ailments which might affect the indoor garden.

The most frequent enemy is scale, where juice sucking bugs gather on the underside of the leaves. Ferns, ivy, oleanders, myrtle, aspidistras and some of the citrus trees are most affected by them. Use a wash or spray with a little nicotine sulphate or pyrethrum in it. In the early stages of infestation scale insects can oftentimes be shaken off the foliage.

Bad company for any plant is the mealy bug, a tiny demon about a sixteenth of an inch long who has a white fuzzy appearance. He can be easily recognized by this wool-like covering. Like the potato bug of the outdoor garden, he eats the leaves and if left unmolested, will soon make short work of your plants. A contact spray is sure death for him. Nicotine, pyrethrum or rotenone are contained in most preparations, or combinations of them.

The red spider isn't red at all, but green. He, also, is to be found on the underside of leaves. He spins a web and leaves tiny red dots on the foliage. A contact spray gets him out of the way.

The most common affliction is an attack of aphids, or plant lice, but these soft green bugs can be displaced with a contact spray. The white fly comes in two forms. The full grown type is a very tiny white fly resembling a moth. The immature form, or nymph, is green and attaches itself to the leaf. They suck the leaves. Give them the same treatment.

Mildew is the most common disease, and is usually caused by improper watering—either too much water or too little. It can be detected in much the same manner as on a stale loaf of bread. The best remedy is a slight dusting of sulphur or one of the organic compounds of mercury. Rogoils are most often affected, and will develop soft, decayed spots in stems and leaves.

Summer Mulches Aid the Flowers

Ithaca, N. Y., July 16.—Summer mulches on flower beds help to conserve moisture, they serve as insulators, and keep the garden nearly weedless, according to S. E. Wadsworth of the horticulture department, Cornell University.

Ordinarily, he says, much water is lost by evaporation. The mulch forms a porous mat over the soil surface, and the amount of water saved for the plants is surprising. In tests at Cornell, during an 18-day rainless period last summer, the bare soil contained only four per cent moisture, which is not enough for plants to live. Mulched plots, however, had from three to four times as much moisture in the soil.

Soil, too, is cooler when mulched, he points out, and there is less variation in temperature than on unmulched plots. A third value is that a mulched plot is nearly weedless, which should interest most gardeners. Very few weeds come up through the mulch and they are easily pulled.

Choosing a suitable mulch is important, according to Mr. Wadsworth. Several different kinds were tested at Cornell to determine how much moisture they saved, how thoroughly they packed down around the plant, their insulating properties, if they allowed rain water to reach the soil, and other points.

Among the results, these are cited by Mr. Wadsworth. Peat moss is desirable in all ways except that when dried out it absorbs nearly all the rain that falls, unless it is a heavy rain. The plants get very little.

Shredded sugar cane keeps the soil cool, conserves the moisture well, and allows rain to percolate through. Its greatest drawback is that it causes a lack of nitrogen in the soil. Plants turn a light green and look rather sickly, until after about three weeks when nitrogen is again liberated and the plants regain a healthy green color.

Rice hulls are ideal in saving moisture and regulating soil temperature, but the yellow tan color may be disagreeable, and the hulls may blow about in windy places. They do not improve the soil when turned under.

Other materials that may be used as summer mulches, but which were not tested, are leaf mold, lawn clippings, and buckwheat hulls.

"None of the materials tried are ideal," says Mr. Wadsworth, "nevertheless they have great value, especially to young annuals and perennials where much of the soil is exposed to the drying action of the sun."

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Easiest rut for an actor to fall into is that of perennial officer of the law. Once a policeman always a cop—unless the actor's lucky.

Mary Boland

They tell it on Robert Emmett O'Connor, so often seen as the detective, that his big chance to break with the role was nixed by an executive who saw the tests.

O'Connor was trying for a priestly part. "Every time he talked to the condemned man in the cell," the executive said, "I expected him to whip out the handcuffs from under his cassock."

O'Connor doubtless has played other characters, but he's typed in my mind, too. Offhand I can't think of a single film in which he hasn't had the bracelets ready. E. E. Chave, who has contributed bright moments to some 30 films, almost fell into the copper's mold.

His first picture, "The Invisible Man," had him in policeman's uniform for the first time in his long stage career, but he was a cop in five films after that. The old judge in "A Tale of Two Cities" started him on a variety of cinematic costumes. Now they "see" him in dramatic pictures. "A Son Comes Home" after long pleading for the opportunity. She's been told the public doesn't want her in drama. It wants to laugh.

After watching her do a scene or two, very funny, I couldn't agree with her that typing was too bad. If she wants to enrole and be sad she ought to take another movie on the occasion—and save Mary Boland for the comedy roles. Then the laugh-hunting fans would never be disappointed.

Today

Broadway: "Pick a Star." With a galaxy of recognized talent plus the assistance of several newcomers, this dance revue is one of the best productions ever to come from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio under the supervision of Hal Roach. Directed by Edward Sedgwick, the cast offers Patsy Kelly, Lydia Robert, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy, Jack Haley, Mischa Auer and Rosina Lawrence. New dances, new tunes and some swell comedy antics all help to make his show a thoroughly enjoyable bit of entertainment.

Kingston: "Last Train from Madrid" and "There Goes My Girl." The Spanish civil war is the background for the first of the features at the Kingston and this play deals little with issues as it melodramatically describes the lives of several men and women in their dangerous effort to get through the lines to safety.

It's fast moving entertainment and the direction, acting and lighting effects are superior to the mediocre plot. "There Goes My Girl" is the other attraction, a light, racy comedy romance with Gene Raymond starred.

Orpheum: "Bulldog Drummond Escapes" and "Guns in the Dark." The legendary sleuth known as Bulldog Drummond nearly meets his doom in the feature at the Orpheum but manages to come out alive and heroic after tearing through one of the most melodramatic plots on record. The late Guy Standing and Heather Angel are featured.

"Guns in the Dark" is the other full length film with John Mack Brown in the starring assignment.

Tomorrow

Broadway: "Mountain Music." A hillbilly songfest is to be heard on the Broadway stage in "Mountain Music," a rustic and tuneful musical comedy with Martha Raye and Bob Burns starred. The play swings through a series of romantic interludes with Miss Raye singing and Mr. Burns adding the necessary comedy touch. John Howard and Terry Walker are featured players in this Paramount Picture directed by Robert Florey.

Kingston: "Another Dawn" and "Hollywood Cowboy." A love story with a sophisticated appeal is half of the double feature bill at the Kingston with Kay Francis and Errol Flynn starred and supported by Ian Hunter and Frieda Inescort. "Hollywood Cowboy" is the other attraction, the story of a motion picture western star who really goes into the cow country where he proves what a man he really can be under pressure. George O'Brien is starred and supported by Cecelia Parker. Orpheum: Same.

WON'T MARRY CABBY, SHE SAYS

Mrs. Nancy Hoyt Curtis, twice-divorced 35-year-old Washington society authoress, denied at Bar Harbor, Me., that she would marry James Baker, 27, fundraiser and taxiderm driver. A motor trip to the Canadian border by the two brought reports of an elopement. "Horrors No!" said Mrs. Curtis.

FATHER ACCUSED OF MURDER PLOT

Albert R. Knight (above) was held under $10,000 bail at Lansdowne, Pa., accused of plotting to burn his house in an attempt to murder his three daughters so that he might collect $120,000 insurance.

DAUGHTERS' ATTEMPT TO RELEASE FATHER

Lansdowne, Pa., July 16 (AP)—Three daughters of Albert R. Knight, 55, sought today to raise $10,000 bail to release their father from jail at Media, where he was held on charges of attempting to murder them to collect $120,000 in insurance.

Knight was arrested on a charge of arson after a fire at his home May 28. The murder charge was filed yesterday by William H. Toal, assistant district attorney of Delaware county.

Toal said he learned Knight had taken out insurance policies on his daughters aggregating $60,000 face value, with a double indemnity clause, six months before the fire.

The daughters insured were Ruth, 22; Sue, 19, and Mary, 17. With their brother David, 15, they escaped from the burning house.

A fourth daughter, married and living in Honolulu, was named beneficiary. Toal, who declined to disclose her name, said "I don't know why he did this, but it doesn't alter the aspect of the case in the least."

At the time of his arrest on the arson charge, Knight denied that he was implicated. He said he was in Washington on a business trip.

New Comet Soon Visible, Is Report

Cambridge, Mass., July 16 (AP)—Harvard astronomers said today that the newly-discovered Finster comet, racing earthward from far-off space, probably would first become visible to observers, without telescopes, about August 1.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple said that although the comet would reach normally visible magnitude about July 18, the brilliance of the moon during the coming two weeks would interfere with amateur observation.

During the first days of August, according to Harvard computations, the comet should be seen at about 8 or 9 p. m., between the North Star, or Pole Star, and the horizon. It will still be faint, astronomers said, but should increase in brightness until August 10 when it reaches third magnitude. It will appear as a somewhat hazy star.

Ready to Take Appeal

Decatur, Ala., July 16 (AP)—Defense Counsel Samuel S. Leibowitz announced today he was ready to take the "Scottsboro case" on its third trip to the United States Supreme Court. He made the statement after a jury decreed death in the electric chair for Clarence Norris, one of nine negroes accused of attacking two white women on a freight train near Scottsboro, Ala., six years ago. Norris twice previously has been condemned to death, but each time the Supreme Court reversed Alabama courts.

800 Wounded Returned

Gaeta, Italy, July 16 (AP)—The hospital ship Gradisca arrived today from Spain with 800 Italian volunteers wounded while fighting with the insurgent Spanish army on the northern Bilbao front.

SHOKAN

Shokan, July 17—Charles S. and John H. Simpson, brothers, of Great Kills, S. I., spent Monday night in the village. The young men, who are in the insurance business, have visited Shokan upon several occasions in the past.

Recent guests at Mountain Laurel Lodge, country home of Mrs. C. G. Fuller, included the following: Mrs. B. Walker, Mrs. J. Scheyer, Mrs. A. Draper, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Tallafiero and C. G. Fuller, all of New York; Miss Jean Wallace of Rochester and W. S. Wallace of Tarrytown.

Miss Jean Spalletta of New York is visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Jane Stubby, at The Calmarinn. Miss Spalletta has a number of friends here who are glad to see her in Shokan again.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Every of Accord were callers recently at the home of Mrs. Isabel Dupuy of the north boulevard.

Dennis T. Reardon, a Brooklyn postman, is spending a vacation of three weeks with his family at their summer home in the village center.

Mrs. James A. Hartvig, who is making a sojourn of several weeks at the Park Lane Hotel, Pleddilly, London, expects to leave for this country about the 15th of August. Miss Margery Hartvig is enjoying her summer vacation at Quanaquut Camp, Pine Bush.

Olive Assessors Martin J. Every, Ezra Silkworth and Homer Markle, Sr., have completed their field work and are now engaged in making up the annual assessment roll.

Guests at the Longyear House on the old state road are as follows: Mrs. Lillian Mullally, Mrs. Anne Hughes, Charles Hughes and Victor Ablandale, all of Brooklyn; Mrs. S. Van Praag, New York, and Mrs. Stuart Walter of Flushing, L. I.

Mrs. Philip Chopay returned to her home in Springfield Valley, L. I., Monday after having visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Giles.

Tom Johnson, a resident of the old village 50 years ago, called on his old schoolmate, Elwyn Winchell, Thursday. Mr. Johnson, who for many years has made his home in Pennsylvania, resided as a boy and young man in one of the tannery houses near the Deep Hole of the Esopus creek; his father was a tannery worker in the days when his team-loads of hemlock bark poured into Shokan in a steady stream and mountainous heaps of bark accumulated on the flats along the east side of the creek.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Sala and three children of Orono Park, L. I., spent two days last week with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Biaccone of the north boulevard.

Michael Gorman, a New York city fireman, brought his family to Shokan Wednesday for their summer vacation stay in the Lenox bungalow in the east end of the village. At the cottage are Mrs. Gorman, Ralph and Lorraine Gorman, Joseph Meade and Loretta Clancy. The family are friends of the D. T. Reardons, who have been coming to Shokan for the past several summers.

Raymond Cruthers and family of Ridgedale Park, N. J., have been spending their vacation at the Cruthers place, opposite the Shokan school house.

July 16, 1882, the death took place of Sarah Ann Winchell, widow of Elder Jacob Winchell. Mrs. Winchell was born 1803, a daughter of Elder Jonathan Van Velsom, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Olive in 1916-19. Her home on the mountain is now the summer residence of Mrs. R. K. Story of Brooklyn.

A formal home for the benefit of the Shokan Home for the Aged will take place at W. Colange's store July 24, from 1 to 4 p. m. General contributions of food will be welcomed and these will be collected by Mrs. Neil Windum, chairman of the local bureau.

The unpleasant weather of the past few days has been pretty hard on our city guests, many of whom have looked forward for a whole year to their brief sojourn in the country. The boarding season is going strong and there are indications that the proprietors of our boarding houses, camps and tourist homes will be increasingly busy throughout the remainder of the summer.

The Grossman House, including the annex and rustic cabins, is filled to capacity.

N. G. Lennox, who spent several days with friends here earlier in the month, sends post card greetings to his local acquaintances from Newark, N. J.

Homor Markle, Jr., started work Wednesday on repainting Herbert A. Dibble's residence, one of the largest and best appointed homes in the north reservoir country.

Los Angeles Fetes Russian Fliers

Los Angeles, July 16 (AP)—Los Angeles, now just around the skyway corner from Moscow, showered civic honors today upon Russia's long-flying birdmen. The office of Mayor Frank Shaw was tilted up as the scene of an official welcome this afternoon for the trio of aviators whose non-stop flight across the North Pole from Moscow to San Jacinto, Calif., is a world record—6,262 miles.

New events were added hourly to the list of ceremonious tributes to Pilot Mikhail Gromov, Co-Pilot Andrei Yumoshet and Navigator Sergei Danilin. Stanley Rumbautsky, Soviet aviation representative, said he understood the next transpolar hop would be in a passenger-type plane and with an Alaskan refueling.

Enroute here, A. Vartanian, flight coordinator for the Russian government, told newsmen at Portland, Ore., that still another aerial project might be "around the world by the North and South Pole."

A jubilant crowd of 3,000 was at the station as the flyers arrived here last night. Volleys were raised in "The Internationale." Flats clutched in familiar Communist salutes.

Beset by autograph hunters and invitations to charity shows, film studios and even a rodeo, the trio made room on their program for a banquet by southern California aircraft manufacturers to-night.

Day Nursery Gives 6 Months Report

The Day Nursery and Emergency Home conducted by the local branch of The Volunteers of America, under the supervision of Adjt. and Mrs. A. G. Noble, at 24 Barnum avenue, would like to submit the following statistical report for the first nine months of its operation.

The Day Nursery operated 229 days with a total attendance of 10,945, allowing the parents to obtain 718 days work. There were 2,240 quarts of milk and 4,908 loaves of bread used in giving the children 9,769 meals. Employment was given to seven part time and three full time. The total income from the Nursery for the nine months was $179.80.

In the Emergency Home 18 people were given 70 nights lodging and 116 meals. Three telegrams were sent and one bus ticket purchased while two were given medical care.

The industrial side of the work, or picking up of boxes, papers, rags, etc., during cold weather gave six men 746 days and 276 odd hours employment.

Transient men received 35 nights lodging and 96 meals; 192 articles of clothing and 25 articles of furniture were given away. Work was obtained for 11; 14 Thanksgiving baskets for 34 persons and 32 Christmas baskets for 112 persons were given. Easter baskets were given to 24 children in the hospital; 28 calls were made to the hospitals. Medical treatment was secured for six. Two families were moved. Services were conducted in 15 homes, hospitals and sanitariums and one prison. Church services assisted in numbered 42 with a total attendance of Volunteer Adherents of 406.

'Eden Plan' to Give Spain's War Back To Spain in Doubt

London, July 16 (AP)—Success of the "Eden plan" to give Spain's war back to the Spaniards and let them keep it was threatened today by a clash of Franco-Russian and Italo-German interests as envoys of 27 European nations gathered to dissect the scheme.

Whether the British compromise proposal to revitalize Spanish non-intervention eventually would come out whole was viewed by most observers as hanging by this tenuous thread.

Whether France and Russia on one hand and Italy and Germany on the other could be reconciled to Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden's requirement that withdrawal of thousands of foreign volunteers from Spain be started before "limited" belligerent rights were granted to the Spanish government and insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

In Paris, a foreign office spokesman said France still favored an effective control system to keep men and materials of war out of Spain and elimination of foreign volunteers but could not approve even temporary recognition of belligerency until both these points had been fulfilled.

The Soviet government's view was believed to be generally the same as France's.

Britain was encouraged when both the German ambassador to London, Joachim Von Ribbentrop, and Count Dino Grandi, the Italian envoy, delivered speeches in which they announced to the non-intervention group they were accepting the British plan as a basis for discussion.

The non-interventionists met for only an hour during the morning, then recessed until afternoon at the request of the French ambassador, Charles Corbin, who said he wished time to receive further instructions from Paris.

Corbin and the Soviet ambassador, Ivan Maisky, were expected to state their governments' positions in the afternoon session.

Germany and Italy, who have recognized the insurgent junta as the de facto government of Spain, it was thought would want belligerent rights accorded immediately with the volunteer question deferred as long as possible.

Arkansas Pays Robinson Tribute

Little Rock, Ark., July 16 (AP)—Official state business halted today while funeral services were conducted in Washington for Arkansas' distinguished son—Senator Joseph Robinson, who died in the capital Wednesday.

Governor Carl E. Bailey, proclaiming a 30-day period of state mourning from July 14, ordered the state house closed from 9 until 10:30 a. m. (CST).

The state military department, state police, Pulaski county and city officials made arrangements to handle what they said would probably be the greatest funeral crowd in the state's history Sunday when services for the late Senator will be held here.

While plans for the funeral went ahead, political undercurrents eddied around Governor Carl E. Bailey, key figure in all discussions concerning Senator Robinson's successor.

The 12-year-old executive has declined to comment until after the funeral. His close friends say he plans no interim appointment. Members of his staff said his decision on the special election had not been reached.

Boice Gets Tax Monies Today

County Treasurer Pratt Boice has just received the second quarterly motor fuel tax monies for the county amounting to $37,752.34. For 1936 in the same quarter the amount was $33,639.81.

The April motor tax fee money has also been received. This amounts to $4,861.13.

Both the fuel tax money and the license fee monies go to the highway fund.

Lane in Jail.
William J. Lane of Newburgh was brought to the county jail Thursday to serve five days in jail on a disorderly conduct charge. He was arrested at Highland by Officer Walter Clark and committed to jail by Justice Seaman.

Home Leaders and Rosendale To Open Second Half Tuesday

"Lost Battalion" Saved by Their Own Division

The field of the Meuse-Argonne offensive was at times seventy miles long and thirty miles wide—an area of 1,200 square miles in which more than a million French and American soldiers pushed forward to St. Iwan. This center of activity was traversed diagonally by the River Meuse, the Argonne forest occupying the southwest corner, with Verdun near the southern end and Sedan on the northern line. It was in this battle that the "lost battalion," commanded by Maj. Charles W. Whittlesey made its stand.

This command was occupying a position on the edge of deep ravine, the sides of which were covered with thick underbrush. It broke through the German line, repulsed a writer in the Indianapolis News, but some of the men were trapped and exposed to the enemy's fire. Surrounded by a foe that could see them, they hid among the roots of trees and bushes, literally burying themselves like foxes in the ground. Here they stubbornly remained for five days without food until they were rescued finally by their own division. Over this grueling experience, Colonel Whittlesey constantly brooded, and on November 25, 1921, he leaped to death in the sea while en route from New York to Cuba.

Bagpipe Was Taken Into England by the Romans

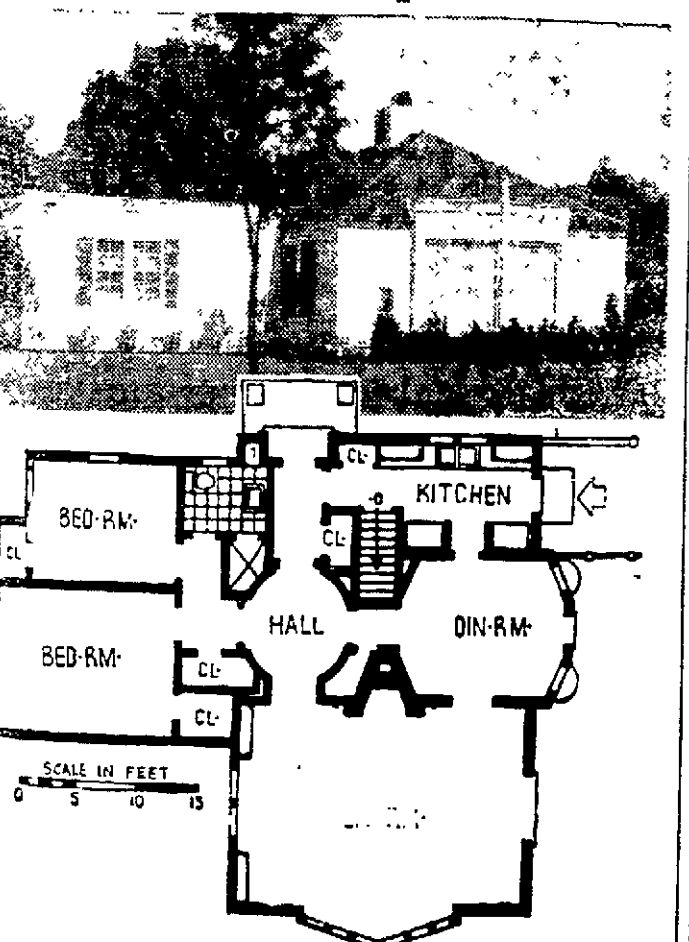

It is generally considered that the bagpipe was introduced into Britain by the Roman conquerors and reached Scotland and Ireland from England. The Britannica states that this conclusion is supported by the discovery in the foundations of the praetorian camp at Richborough, Kent, of a small bronze figure showing a Roman soldier playing the pib-a-utricularis or bagpipe. It was an instrument of war of the Roman infantry centuries before the Scottish clans used it for this purpose. At an early date it came to be treated as the special instrument of the Celtic races, though most races of Europe and some of Asia, both ancient and modern, have been identified with its use.

The Americana encyclopedia says it is not known when the bagpipe first found its way into Scotland, but that it is probable that the Norsemen first introduced it into the Hebrides, which islands they long possessed. In England it was common from Anglo-Saxon times and is familiarly referred to by Chaucer in Shakespeare.

Many Varieties of Gulls

There are some fifty odd varieties of gulls in the world, and twenty kinds live in or visit the United States. It seems to most people that the herring gull of Maine, the laughing gull of New Jersey, the Western gull of the Pacific coast and the burgomaster of the Far North are all the same bird, and they really are almost alike. The herring gull generally migrates south in the winter to the Carolinas, Florida and even as far as South America, and arrives back in the North about the middle of March. Mackerel gulls belong to the tern family and are pointed wings, black heads and a shriller, less raucous cry. Some herring gulls never migrate, even during the most bitter winters, and during seasons when shores are covered with ice and their staple food is unavailable, they are sometimes driven by hunger to scold with barnyard flocks at feeding time.

There's Something Grand About This Spacious Plan

For a small home, this one breathes that spacious feeling to marked degree. It also has an air of undeniable grandeur. A wide window, extending from floor almost to the ceiling, is the living room quite distinctive and wonderfully light and cheerful. It has built-in bookcases at two corners.

Grundenwald's Home Leaders, first half champions of the City League, and Rosendale will open the second half at the Athletic Field, Tuesday evening.

The managers held a meeting at the City Hall, Thursday evening and decided to play one round as usual in the second half. They also decided to play the series, if there is one, evenings instead of Saturday afternoons.

The question of having another club enter the loop also was brought up and on a vote by the managers it was decided to go along with the original five teams.

Saturday, July 17, was set as the deadline for handing in rosters. The names of the players are to be sent to the secretary on this date so they can be published Monday.

The Home Leaders are jubilant over their first-half victory and gave notice to the other teams that they are out strong to cop the second half also. Walt Gadd, left fielder of the Bakers, says it is as good as won.

A return game with the Newburgh All Stars also was discussed and the players were anxious for a return match if the fans showed enough interest.

Reindeer Are Speedy

Reindeer really are quite speedy. They can't match their cousins, antelopes, however. These lithe, long-limbed creatures can approach 50 miles per hour. They can outrace any animal over a distance, yet they get away from a cheetah, an animal hunting leopard, without considerable start. For the cheetah is generally acknowledged the fastest thing on four legs for short distances. Coming after the cheetah, says the Washington Post, is the Saluki, a dog somewhat like the greyhound. The horse would probably be a close third in a race with these two, the best equine speed being around 40 miles per hour.

In the two-legged class, the ostrich takes the prize with the almost incredible speed of 60 miles per hour. But it's easy to catch because it runs in a circle.

Three Scottish Canals

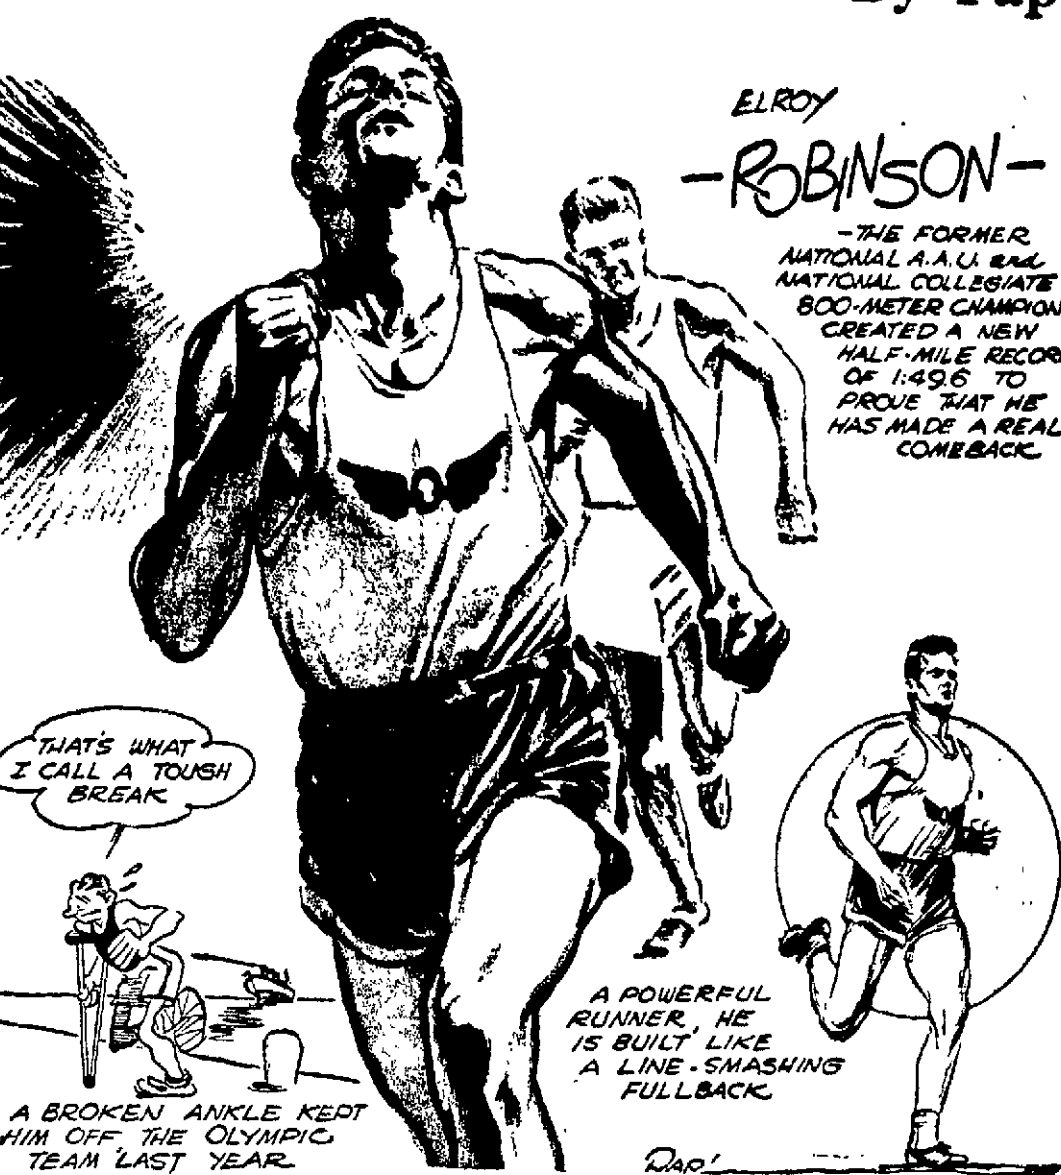

Being mountainous, Scotland has not many canals. There are, in fact, only three. The Crinan canal, but 9 miles long, goes from Loch Gilp, in the Firth of Clyde, to Loch Crinan, on the Atlantic coast of Argyll, saving a journey of 70 miles around the stormy Mull of Kintyre. The Caledonian canal is perhaps the most picturesque waterway in Europe. Although 60 miles in total length, only 25 miles are man-made, the rest being through Loch Ness, Loch Oich and Loch Lochy—freshwater lakes flanked by the mountainous sides of the Great Glen. This unusual type of canal stretches between Inverness, on the North Sea, to Fort William, at the head of Loch Linnhe, leading to the Atlantic ocean.

Young Men on Show

Every year on a certain day, at Mouten, Brittany, the eligible girls hold a marriage market to which all bachelors are invited. The young men, dressed in their best clothes, await the arrival of the girls in the public square after high mass. Each girl then selects the bachelor of her choice and invites him to luncheon. The cost of this meal down to the wines and cigars is met by the girls. After lunch, says The Bits Magazine, the young men take the girls for a walk in the woods, where they are expected to propose, and at night a country dance is held where engagements made that day are announced.

Record Wrecker

—By Pap

When Long John Woodruff, Pittsburgh's Olympic and National A.A.U. 800-meter champion, took an afternoon to play around with Glenn Cunningham, Archie San Roman, Gene Venzke and the other runners, Elroy Robinson of the San Francisco Olympic Club stepped out and created a new world mark for Woodruff's favorite distance—the half-mile.

Robinson sprinted two laps around the track in 1:49.5 to erase the mark of 1:49.8 set by Ben Eastman at Princeton in 1934. Robinson actually sprinted all the way. That's the way he seems to travel. He is a racer, not a runner. He is built more like a wrestler than a track athlete. His every stride bespeaks power.

To Robinson the new mark means more than a world record. It means that his comeback is complete. He was rated the top half-mile runner of the world in 1935, when he toured Europe without suffering a defeat after winning National A.A.U. and National Collegiate titles. He created a new mark for the 1,000-meter run on the tour.

In the spring of 1936, in a race against Cunningham at the Drake relays, he broke an ankle. With that fall went his hopes of winning a place on the Olympic team. He came back to the races last winter. He won the National A.A.U. 1,000-meter indoor title on the Madison Square Garden track. In May of this year he lowered the world mark for the 1,000-yard run to 2:09.7, three-tenths of a second below the figure held by Luigi Beccali of Italy.

Robinson's new half-mile mark appears safe only so long as no one presses John Woodruff to the point that a better figure will be necessary. Long John merely runs fast enough to win. And it is pretty well established that he is capable of beating any of the current crop of half-mile aces—including Robinson. In their only previous meeting Woodruff beat Robinson in convincing fashion to win the National 800-meter title.

North America Rich in the Massive Oak Trees

Oaks girdle the earth in the northern hemisphere and ascend the mountains in the northern tropics. They are most cosmopolitan; even the famous English oak is native to three continents. But North America, including Mexico, is far richer in these trees than is any other land, according to a writer in the Los Angeles Times.

Very few of these species are shrubs—and those that are seem to have been handed local territory. Nearly all oaks are large, sturdy trees noted for the beauty of their leaves, their extreme strength and vigor and the many and varied uses of the wood. More than 370 species are known in America, Africa, Asia and Europe. There are many in China and Japan, but Australia has none, though they make use of such names as she-oak and silk-oak, so called by English settlers because the woods resemble oak. The she-oak is a casuarina and the silk-oak a grevillea.

Many of the oaks are lofty specimens with massive trunks and stout spreading limbs. They are, therefore, very profitable for either lumber or fuel purposes. For either purpose they rank among the best of all trees. Some oaks grow to the extreme height of 200 feet, several to 150 feet, and in nearly every country some of them range above 100 feet high. This great size, together with their free distribution over the north half of the world, establishes the oaks among the earth's most valuable hardwood trees.

Pug Dogs From Orient Favored Many Years Ago

Near the close of the Nineteenth century, the pug was the pampered dog of wealthy families. He was spoiled, perhaps, because he was carried around and allowed to lie about on fancy cushions. The pug grew fat and lazy with that life of luxury.

There is every reason to believe pugs came from the Orient, according to a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer. The wrinkled muzzle and the curled tail indicates a similarity to either the Pekingese or Chow, except for the coat covering. These little dogs are said to have been imported from the Orient to Holland on vessels that traded under the flags of the East Indian company.

The pug is cobby, and possesses a short coat, which comes mostly in two colors—apricot fawn and silver fawn. He has a surprising width of chest for a dog that scales the beam from 14 to 18 pounds. The head is large and round, but in proportion to his body conformation.

A short muzzle of jet black with a well-defined wrinkle over the eyes tends to give the pug much character. In fact, the pug appears to have his nose upturned and gives him a saucy-like expression. However, he is not pert, but a friendly little companion and well qualified as a watch dog.

"Blackberries," said Pliny, centuries ago, "are the friend of man." The ancients esteemed the fruit for its supposed medicinal qualities.

Yanks Appear Headed for Another Waltz to Victory

(By The Associated Press)

The Yanks are coming so fast they're even ahead of themselves. The New York Slaughter Squad, specialist in making second-rate hash out of first-rate pitching talent, is not only on the way to another waltz to a pennant, but appears headed for a bigger and better year than the record-breaker of 1936.

When they finished rewriting the record books last season, it was generally agreed that the maximum in fence busting had been reached for some time to come—that another stretch of years would pass before the records would have another such general going over. But it seems now that Murderers' Row was only warming up.

For, taking this season's figures to date, and throwing in a few "angles" that don't appear on the surface, Gehrig and Company are set to make more of a chopping block than ever of American League competition. That fact stood out today as the Yanks coasted along on a 7½ game lead, while over in the National League the Chicago Cubs were once again at the head of the parade, by virtue of a 5-1 thumping of the Boston Bees during yesterday's program—or that part which wasn't washed out.

As matters now stand, the Yanks have met to enjoy their full variety strength this season, what with injuries, ailments and spring holdouts. In addition, they've only recently shot into high gear—their surge dating to the start of their last home stand. Despite those factors, they have already smashed out a total of 87 homers, thereby leading their record-breaking production for the same period last season, when they hit a total of 182 in 154 games. And they are boasting their league lead week by week.

Every man in the lineup climbed aboard Detroit pitching yesterday as the swat squad clubbed out a 13-5 victory over the Tigers, thereby stretching its undefeated streak to ten games—nine wins and one tie—their longest in four years.

The Cubs, meantime, after spending a day in second place in the National League, went out in front again as Tex Carleton chalked up another win over the Bees in the only senior circuit contest that escaped the weather. The Giants, through enforced idleness, dropped back to second. Except for the Yankees and the Cleveland Indians, who trounced Washington's Senators 6-2 as Hal Trosky poked his 19th homer, American League favorites found the going rough.

The sky-rocketing Boston Red Sox had an edge for five innings, but the St. Louis Browns put on a three-run surge in the sixth to come through with a 5-3 decision. A couple of youngsters, George Carter and Earle Brucker, combined to give the Athletics a 2-1 win over the White Sox, thus ending

Registered Shoot Sunday at Ulster County Gun Club

Sunday, July 18, a registered 16-yard trap shoot will be held at the Ulster County Gun Club range on the Plank Road. This is the third shoot of this type to be run off this summer. Although the entry in the two previous registered events was comparatively small a large turnout is expected Sunday.

The program will be as usual and will consist of the 100-target 16-yard event and the 50 target yardage handicap shoot.

All 16-yard shooters are invited to enter. The grounds are in excellent condition and the club will welcome all comers. The public is also invited to witness the gunners perform. The traps will be opened 1:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, rain or shine.

Thursday's Skeet Scores

The heavy rain Thursday afternoon discouraged most of the Ulster club's skeeters and only four turned out to inaugurate the Thursday shoots. Bob Martin brightened an otherwise dreary day with a 25 straight, his fifth to date, and broke 48 out of 50.

Skeet addicts are reminded that they will have another opportunity to shoot Sunday afternoon. After the registered shoot is completed, the skeet traps will be put in operation and shooting will continue until dark.

Skeet scores made Thursday follow:
Martin 23-25-48
Coles 18-22-49
Bruck 21-18-29
Koenig 18-19-37

Grant and Budge To Play Singles

London, July 16 (AP)—Capt. Walter L. Tate today designated Bryan M. (Bitty) Grant, of Atlanta, and Don Budge, of Oakland, Calif., to play singles for the United States against Germany in the Davis Cup inter-zone tennis finals at Wimbledon. Budge will team with Gene Mako, of Los Angeles, for the doubles play.

The little Atlantian, who has not been playing up to his usual game because of a severe cold since he arrived in England, will open the semi-finals when he meets Baron Gottfried von Cramm at 2:30 p. m. (8:30 a. m., E. S. T.) tomorrow.

Budge will play Heinrich Henkel as soon as the first match is out of the way and on Monday Budge and Mako will meet von Cramm and Henkel in the doubles.

On Tuesday, Grant and Henkel will lead off in the first of the two final singles matches. Budge and von Cramm will ring down the curtain on the interzone finals.

The winner in the series will go into the challenge round, meeting Great Britain for possession of the Davis Cup at Wimbledon July 24, 25 and 27.

Closi to Play At Margaretville

The Closi A. C. will play at Margaretville on Sunday. The Kingston nine will attempt to make it two straight when they meet the strong mountaineer squad.

Last Sunday the Closi A. C. won from the Middletown Crescents with Earl Sleight pitching. The pitching assignment this Sunday can go to Ashdown, Sleight or Sympa. Practice will be held at 6:30 tonight at Hasbrouck Park in preparation for Sunday's game.

KEARNS' WHITE HOPE

Introducing, says Jack Kearns, the new "white hope." Jack Kearns, who won the heavyweight title, is expected to fight tonight at the Ulster County Gun Club range on the Plank Road.

Socials to Play Connells Tonight

The C and R Socials will cross bats with the Connells at Block Park this evening, starting at 8:30 o'clock. The Socials hold a one game lead and if Manager Connell's prediction means anything, the Socials are in for a trimming. The Connells have imported some excellent material for tonight's game. To top the list they have drafted Ben (No Hit) Toffel as their one means to tame Al Vogel and his mates. For this game Manager Connell has imported Pres Knight, Ad Stumpf, Bryan M. (Bitty) Grant, of Atlanta, and Don Budge, of Oakland, Calif., to play singles for the United States against Germany in the Davis Cup inter-zone tennis finals at Wimbledon.

The Socials will continue to play their remaining games on Friday evenings so the Block Park community nights may go on as scheduled. They have, however, one or two open dates and any team desiring a game may arrange a game by seeing Al Vogel or Jimmy Woods at the Connell fire station on Alford street any evening before 8 o'clock.

In another fine rounder Danny Romano, Deacon Bumber, will tackle Sam Rizzo, a rugged little featherweight from Johnston, and Billy Hines, Hudson's negro heavyweight will slug it out with Johnny Fair of West Point, for the name number of heats or less.

Jimmy Jackson, Kingston's latest heavyweight, will make his debut in a three rounder against Carl Carnibucci, the 190 pounder from Havana. Jackson, a white battler, has been training with Tommy Zano at the Y. M. C. A. and is in "the pink." Eddie Noonan, local boxing enthusiast, will be in his corner.

Davy Lipp, Sam Offerman's local lightweight, will back to battle Jimmy Williams, the Hudson scrapper who beat him by an unpopular decision last week. Hopp will take the place of Johnny Moslowick, who was shifted by the A. A. U. to a place on the Newburgh boxing program tonight, to give his fellow townsmen a chance to see him battle.

Starting time of the bouts is 9 o'clock sharp.

The club is forming an anti-aircraft squad. Both players and supporters will take part, using the club rooms as headquarters and the playing field as a drill ground.

Challenges Legend

Albany, N. Y., July 16 (AP)—It rained on St. Swithin's Day and sprinkled again today, but the old legend that 40 days of rain will follow was challenged by Meteorologist Gustave Lindgren. Lindgren produced official Weather Bureau records since 1874 to show that the greatest consecutive number of days of rain after St. Swithin's Day was 23 in 1901.

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)
Washington—Yvon Roberte, 216, Montreal, threw Reb Russell, 221, Chicago, (31:00).

St. Louis—Warren Rockwinkel, 218, St. Louis, threw "Red Devil," 230, Yakima, Wash., "Mystery Man," (18:29); Blue Sun Jennings, 230, Oklahoma, threw Eddie Newman, 225, New York, (25:53).

One of the largest fight crowds ever seen in the municipal auditorium is expected to gather tonight for the heavyweight brawl between Johnny Bileski and Sergeant Perry.

The big Polish Blond from Scotia and the colored soldier from Uncle Sam's 16th Cavalry at West Point are matched for five rounds in the bout featuring the regular weekly card run for the benefit of the Mayor's Industrial Committee fund.

Bileski hopes to turn the tables on the Sergeant tonight, and avenge the beating he suffered at the hands of the West Pointer when they fought the last time. Perry won that battle by pummeling the rugged Scotian, who just couldn't get away from the dusky West Pointer's dynamic right.

"It was my own fault that I lost," said Johnny after the scrap. "That right of Perry's just kept coming right past my guard, and I couldn't avoid it. I'll get him the next time."

Bileski beat Perry previous to the shellacking he suffered the second time they fought, knocking out the Cavalryman in the second round. During the first heat of their initial meeting the young negro had the better of the going, but succumbed to a tattoo of hard rights.

"I beat him the second time we met, and I count on repeating," Perry told a sports writer. "I said Bileski wouldn't be able to sneak those rights across to my stomach the second time, and he didn't. I feel good and am ready to score another win."

Fans have been waiting quite a while for the "rubber" match between the two heavyweights, and indications are that there will be a record turnout for tonight's card of scraps.

Supporting the Bileski-Perry bout are six others that promise plenty of action. In one of the five rounders Buddy Emerson, St. Remy lightweight, will get a real test against Tony Squallace of Amsterdam, a 135 pounder who leads all the battlers his weight around his neighborhood.

"They tell me he's a tough guy, but I'm ready," said Buddy this morning. "I don't want to brag, but I think I'll be able to keep up my string of wins tonight." Emerson, since starting a comeback a month ago, has registered four victories in a row.

In another fine rounder Danny Romano, Deacon Bumber, will tackle Sam Rizzo, a rugged little featherweight from Johnston, and Billy Hines, Hudson's negro heavyweight will slug it out with Johnny Fair of West Point, for the name number of heats or less.

Jimmy Jackson, Kingston's latest heavyweight, will make his debut in a three rounder against Carl Carnibucci, the 190 pounder from Havana. Jackson, a white battler, has been training with Tommy Zano at the Y. M. C. A. and is in "the pink." Eddie Noonan, local boxing enthusiast, will be in his corner.

Stewart-Bennett Nuptials to be Aug. 2

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Constance Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bruce Bennett, of Oakwood Terrace, New Paltz, and Kenneth Stewart, of Mamoroneck and Staatsburg, which will be a prominent event of Monday evening, August 2.

The wedding will take place in the Dutch Reformed Church, New Paltz, with the Rev. G. S. Wullfeger, officiating.

Miss Bennett has asked her sister, Florence, to be her maid of honor. The bridesmaids will include Miss Frances Elmore, of New Paltz, and Miss Rose Mullen, of White Plains.

Clifford Stewart will be his brother's best man and the ushers will be Lee Filliman, of Port Chester, Frank Cavanaugh, of Ossining, Pross Walker, of Dover Plains and John Coles, Jr., of Maroneck.

A reception will be held at the Bennett home immediately after the ceremony and later Mr. Stewart and his bride will depart for a short wedding trip. The remainder of the summer will be spent at Copake Falls upon return from their trip.

Miss Bennett was graduated from the New Paltz high school and the New Paltz Normal School and has been teaching in Mamoroneck. Mr. Stewart was graduated from New York University and is coach of the Staatsburg High School.

Book By Col. McEntee

Announcement has been made of a new book, "The World War," written by Col. Girard L. McEntee of "Parade Rest," Barclay Heights, Saugerties, which will be published by Charles Scribner and Sons of New York, about November 1. Col. McEntee's new book will contain 750 pages and have 459 illustrations, these comprising maps and charts and also a few pictures of military leaders. The book has received the endorsement of West Point Military Academy officials and it will be used as a text book at the academy. This is the second book Col. McEntee has written. The first one was, "Italy's Part in the World War."

Ramundo-Stahl

Miss Jeanne Marie Stahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stahl, of 277 Flatbush avenue, and Michael Ramundo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sabatino Ramundo, of Flatbush, were united in marriage Thursday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in St. John's Episcopal Church by the Rev. Maurice W. Yenko, rector. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bogart. A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents.

Barn Dance at Weber's Barn

To the music of sawing fiddles and an accordion, Kingstonians revived the square dances of by-gone days in the barn of John Weber, on West Chestnut street, last evening. The dance was sponsored by the Ulster County Theatre Association to raise funds for a forthcoming production. Square dances by the Woodstock Sesquicentennial dancers and a tap dance by Miss Ottillia Riccobono, of this city, opened the program. After a welcome to the guests and the thanks of the organization to Mr. Weber and the performers by Arthur Ewig the audience joined in the square dances with the Wheel Inn Orchestra furnishing the music.

Inmaculate Conception Picnic

The annual picnic of the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Delaware avenue, will be held Sunday, July 18, on the parish grounds from 3 o'clock until midnight. Refreshments will be served and dancing and entertainment will be featured. The united societies of the parish are all cooperating in planning the picnic.

CULTIVATE YOUR PERSONALITY; WATCH IT BLOSSOM INTO CHARM

Some girls fairly blossom with charm. Others never let their loveliness see the light.

Any girl can coax her personality into full bloom. It's just a matter of nourishing her confidence, throwing more light on her good points, weeding out annoying mannerisms, removing the blight of awkwardness. Day by day her radiant charms unfold—and her admirers increase.

Ask These Questions.

A girl who's eager to develop her charm should ask herself—

Do I walk and sit gracefully?

Is my voice warm and melodious?

Does my hair dress suit my type—and is my make-up effective and in good taste?

Do my clothes bring out my best points, hide my worst?

Am I at ease with people—able to break the ice of restraint?

Has my face a pleasant expression in repose?

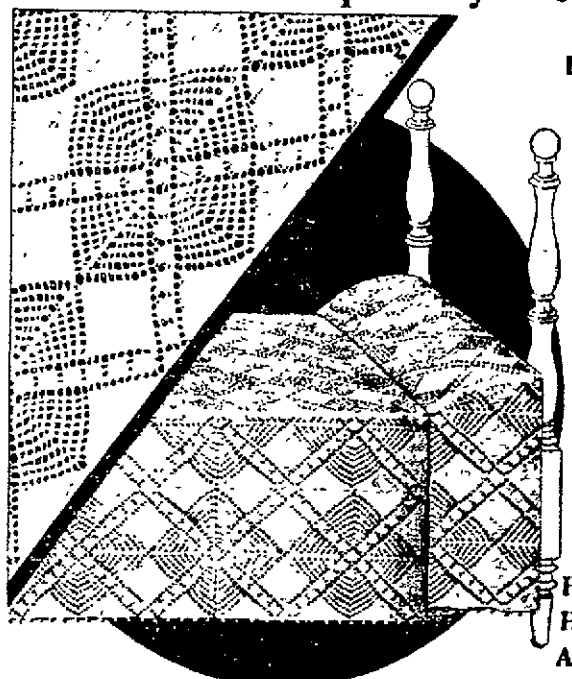

Are my manners gracious and correct?

Do I tell people pleasant things I think and hear about them?

You can answer a joyful "yes" to all these important questions after definite, step-by-step lessons in personality development. Our 40-page booklet, SECRETS OF A WINNING PERSONALITY, gives a complete charm course.

Send 15 cents for our booklet, SECRETS OF A WINNING PERSONALITY, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

Knitted in Strips—Easy to Join

Household Arts by Alice Brooks

String Makes Handsome Household Accessories

PATTERN 5754

Don't envy your "best friend" her knitted spread! Make one for yourself! It's a grand pastime besides, for what could be more fascinating than watching these 6 1/2 inch knitted strips growing inch by inch until you've enough strips of given length to join and make this spread. When you view your spread as a whole, you'll note the interesting "plaid" effect created by the open-work stitches in cross-hatch design. In pattern 5754 you will find complete instructions for making the strips shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements; a photograph of a section of the strip.

To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to the Kingston Daily Freeman, Household Arts Dept., 259 W. 14th street, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS and PATTERN NUMBER.

Can bees use other foods in place of pollen? Apiculturists of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine of the United States Department of Agriculture wanted particularly to find what foods might have favorable effect on brood-rearing activities and on the length of the bee's life. Young adult bees, they found, are unable to maintain life on yellow corn, patent flour, ground whole wheat, dried skim milk, fresh pollen, canned milk, or dried baker's yeast when fed without honey. The average life of bees receiving pure honey and fresh pollen was 24-1 days. On honey alone the average life was 16.6 days.

Navy Nears End Of Earhart Search

Honolulu, July 16 (AP)—Navy airmen, plagued by scorching heat and blinding rain squalls, moved today toward the close of their apparently hopeless South Seas hunt for Amelia Earhart and Frederick J. Noonan.

Four massed flights over the vast equatorial area where the pair vanished July 2 have netted not a clue. Somewhere in the waters surrounding lonely Howland Island, the aviatrix and her navigator disappeared while attempting a 2,570-mile flight to the mile-and-a-half long island from Lae, New Guinea.

More than 200,000 square miles around Howland, which peeps but two feet above the sea, have been combed by ships and planes. Naval authorities here indicated the hunt probably would be called off Saturday. They said the aircraft carrier Lexington probably could not continue in operation much beyond that date because of dwindling fuel supplies.

The battleship Colorado already has had to return to Honolulu because of lack of fuel. The Coast Guard cutter Itasca still is searching the Gilbert Islands area. The Lexington, Itasca and the minesweeper Swan are expected to meet Saturday and decide whether to continue the search. Naval authorities here and aboard the searching ships have expressed belief the lost fliers have perished.

Dinner On Sunday
(Planned For Leftovers)
Menu
Fresh Vegetable Salad
Roast Veal
Stuffed Glazed Onions
Carrot Ring
Rolls
Currant Jelly
Tapioca
Iced Coffee

Roast Veal
4 1/2 pounds veal
2 onions sliced
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup boiling water

Wipe off veal with damp cloth. Fit into roaster and sprinkle with flour and seasonings. Add water, roast 10 minutes uncovered in hot oven, cover and reduce the heat. Roast two hours in a moderate oven. Baste frequently. Turn the meat to allow even browning.

Stuffed Glazed Onions
6 Spanish onions
1 cup crumbs
1/2 cup melted butter
1 egg, dried
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon paprika

Select average-sized onions. Wash and peel, cover by 3 inches with cold water and simmer 10 minutes. Drain, cover again with cold water and add one teaspoon salt. Slowly bring to the boiling point. Boil 10 minutes or until the onions are very tender. Drain thoroughly and rinse in cold water to make the onions firm. Cool, scoop out centers and stuff with rest of the ingredients. Brown in moderate oven.

Carrot Ring
3 cups diced cooked carrots
2 eggs or 4 yolks
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup breadcrumbs
1/2 cup melted butter
1 egg, dried
1/2 cup boiling water

Press cooked carrots through a coarse strainer. Add rest of the ingredients and pour into a round or ring mold, buttered. Bake 20 minutes in a pan of hot water in a moderate oven. Unmold carefully and garnish with parsley.

Peas, beans or beef may be used for filling the ring.

Japs Isolating Peiping Today

erations the curtain-raiser to an attempt to seize possession of Tientsin and Peiping and the strategic railway that links the two principal North China cities. Japan was understood to have the equivalent of a war strength division in the Peiping-Tientsin area—a force of some 15,000 troops. Chinese troops were placed at 12,000. The bulk of the 29th Army is in South Hopeh.

Mobilization Ordered. Tokyo, July 16 (AP).—The Japanese war office, mobilizing its forces for war on a national scale, announced today it had received reports the main forces of the Chinese army were advancing on both Peiping and Tientsin to support the 29th route army in its fight with Japanese troops in North China.

The units moving toward Peiping, where Chinese and Japanese troops clashed a week ago Wednesday, were said to be speeding northward over the main line of the railroad from Hankow. The remainder were reported en route on the Peking-Suiyuan Railroad. Tientsin is the North China headquarters of the Japanese army. The war office estimated that more than 30 divisions—some 350,000 troops—were concentrated on the border of Shansi province just south of Hopeh province.

The first line of the Chinese army was said to have been established at Paoting, 75 miles south and slightly west of Peiping, while the advance elements of the Chinese forces were declared to be within 10 miles of the battle area.

Flocks of Chinese airplanes were reported to have increased their activity over the area which had been an unrelenting battle ground since Japanese troops on night maneuvers and Chinese bridge guards started fighting at midnight July 7, 12 miles west of Peiping.

With war apparently more imminent than at any stage of the tense crisis Japan began calling reserves to the colors. Many of them were valued employees of American firms in Japan. Police reserves were called out and the guards about munitions plants.

MINE WHERE 20 ARE FEARED DEAD IN BLAST

This is a view of the entrance to the Glendora Coal Company's Baker mine where it was feared at least 20 were dead in an explosion and fire. More than 200 were in the mine at the time of the blast but some 180 escaped alive.

navy yards and public buildings were troubled.

Held for Hearing.

Andrew Vitzthum of Phoenixia was brought to the county jail Thursday by State Troopers Dunn and Wright and held for a hearing later before Justice of the Peace Theron Townsend. The charge was public intoxication.

Public Intoxication.

Frank Riddle, who said he lived at Richmond, Vt., was arrested Thursday at Highland and sentenced to 10 days in jail or pay a fine of $10 for public intoxication. He was arraigned before Justice Carpenter and later brought to jail to serve the time.

Since 1871 American Indians have obtained $18,000,000 in claims from the federal government.

MINERS REST AFTER RESCUE

Weary relief workers who braved death themselves to fight their way into the Baker mine at Sullivan, Ind., after fire and explosion had taken the lives of 20 miners and trapped many others, are shown taking a needed rest at the top of the shaft while bodies were being brought out. Nine miners were injured so badly that some of them may die and nearly 175 escaped.

Army Seeks Recruits Here

According to a report received from the U. S. Army Recruiting Station in the Post Office Building at Poughkeepsie today, Sergeant Joseph F. Dolan, who is in charge of that station, will be at the county court house in Kingston for the entire day on Saturday, July 17, for the purpose of accepting enlistments and furnishing information regarding the U. S. Army.

At the present time desirable young men are being accepted for service with the U. S. Army in Panama, Hawaii and the United States. There are also a few vacancies for specialists in the Philippine Islands. As per the usual custom, each accepted applicant will be permitted a choice of branch and station, so long as vacancies exist.

While the sergeant will be at the court house from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., he will gladly make appointments for later in the evening for those who may not be able to see him during the above hours.

Ziegler Detained on Grand Jury Writ For Grand Larceny

Fred E. Ziegler, who operates the Yacht Club in Woodstock, surrendered to the district attorney's office in New York city Wednesday to answer to an indictment charging him with grand larceny and receiving stolen goods.

The indictment charges that he and Kenneth MacLaren of Toronto and William Von Bremen defrauded customers of the Von Bremen Company when that securities firm closed. According to Assistant District Attorney H. W. Hastings, Von Bremen is serving time in Sing Sing following his conviction under the indictment.

New York city detectives arrived at Woodstock but Ziegler was permitted to go to New York city in company with his attorney.

It is expected that the Java-Australia air service will be in operation within two months, according to the head of the Royal Dutch Air Lines.

MORE THAN $7,500,000,000 APPROPRIATED BY CONGRESS

Washington, July 16 (AP).—Congress has appropriated more than $7,500,000,000 this year for federal expenditures, committee records showed today.

This includes an estimated $133,298,999 for the interior department, which the House may cut to some extent before giving final approval next week.

The budget bureau recommended general expenditures of $7,834,036,159.59, while the comparable appropriations for last year were $8,703,324,108.52.

Although an economy campaign resulted in holding funds some $300,000,000 under the budget bureau's recommendations, this year's appropriations would be more than $1,000,000,000 ahead of last year's had not Congress voted $2,237,000,000 in 1936 to pay the soldiers' bonus.

Including miscellaneous appropriations, such as those to pay claims against the government.

permanent and indefinite appropriations, the grand total approved by Congress last year was $10,336,399,272.65.

Hearing Postponed

Washington, July 16 (AP).—Hearing on the appeal of the Federal Bearing Company of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., was postponed for four hours by the National Labor Relations Board today out of respect to Senator Joseph T. Robinson.
